Iowa holds on for third-straight victory

By Jay Christensen
Sports Editor

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. — Afterthoughts of Iowa's quivering 24-20 Big Ten Conference victory Saturday over Indiana linger, just like Hayden Fry's smile and Lee Corso's frequent looks of mental anguish on the sideline.

But the memory that may well last the longest in the minds of the coaches — Iowa's Fry and Indiana's Corso — occurred on the game's final play, which saw the Hoosiers' Scott McNabb fall two yards short of victory as time expired.

"On a scale of one to 10 for being hard to swallow," said Hoosiers' flanker Duane Gunn, "this is a 10."

A wide-open McNabb grabbed a Babe Laufenberg pass and headed for the end zone, but was stopped short by the Hawkeyes' Devon Mitchell, who was just "browsing around" on Iowa's two-yard line. By failing to reach the goal line and by not getting out-of-bounds by less than two yards either way, time ran out for the Hoosiers. So may have any aspirations Indiana had of contending for the Big Ten title.

"It's difficult because neither team deserved to lose the game," Corso said. "I'm sure they would be heartbroken if they lost it. I know we are. It was a really tough, hard-nosed ballgame and I don't think anybody has to be ashamed of it. It got to a situation where we were a couple of yards short and a second or two short."

FREE SAFETY Ron Hawley seemingly wrapped up victory No. 3 for Iowa with an interception of a Laufenberg pass with 2:16 remaining, but following a punt by the Hawkeyes' Reggie Roby, the Hoosiers, without timeouts, simply charged down the field again.

Laufenberg, who threw for 390 yards — his best day ever as a Hoosier — marched his team 69 yards in the final 57 seconds. But instead of taking an interference call against Iowa's Zane Corbin on wide receiver Terry Smith, the Hoosiers opted for the completed pass, giving them the ball on Iowa's eight.

"Had they taken the penalty, the penalty would have given them the yardage plus an automatic first down on about the seven-yard line with the clock stopped," Fry said. "And the clock would have not started until the ball was snapped. However, if you take the play and make the first down as soon as the referee moves the down boxes and marks the ball ready for play, the clock begins, regardless whether the other team is ready to snap it or not. That very possibly could have cost them a few seconds."

"I wasn't paying any attention to the clock. I'm just saying we would have taken the penalty. No, I'm not going to second-guess Lee Corso and what he did. I'm just pointing out a fact that a dead ball foul or something that happens of that nature where the clock

IOWA'S CONSERVATIVE style during the game made it seem the Hawkeyes pulled victory from their tail, but Indiana, with Laufenberg throwing on nearly every play, had several opportunities.

"I was doing two things on the final series," Fry said. "I was praying, which was good, and I was hoping Coach Corso would foul it up."

Mitchell lined up across from the fleet Gunn, who earlier grabbed a 52-yard touchdown pass from Laufenberg, on the game's decisive play.

"I was thinking they were going to hit Gunn," Mitchell said. "But he went on a post (pattern). I just dropped back

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. — Obvious disappointment showed in the faces of Indiana coaches, players and fans after their Hoosiers fell two yards short of winning their Homecoming contest against the Hawkeyes.

As the Hoosiers trudged back to the quiet of their locker room, they were overwhelmed by applause and encouragement by boosters, who realized they had witnessed — despite a loss — a great game.

One Big Red fan got the attention of a Hoosier assistant coach, and in doing so, gave him the thumbs up sign. Others shouted "great game" and "congratulations. It was a good game" to Coach Lee Corso and his players.

Inside at the post-game press conference, Corso sipped a Pepsi and paced across the press conference room waiting to tell the media just how great a game it was.

"It was a hell of a good football game, and I think both teams showed a lot of character," he said. "It looked like a major league Big Ten football game. It was a great game for college football."

AFTER ANOTHER sip of Pepsi, Corso continued, "I've got nothing to say but good things about my football players. I'm speaking as a guy from the sidelines watching the game.

"They played with a hell of a lot of heart. They played hard and took everything Iowa could give them. I've got nothing but a great amount of respect for the Indiana football team."

"I was proud of the way the team played in every respect from the beginning to the end of the game, particularly when we tried to win the game with a sensational drive. I'm disappointed that we lost, but I'm proud of the way we played."

Corso cited the individual performances of many of his players, emphasizing the remarkable combination of quarterback Babe Laufenberg and wide receiver extraordinaire Duane Gunn.

LAUFENBERG HAD his best day ever, hitting on 26-of-36 passes for an Indiana-record 390 yards. Six of those passes went to Gunn, who out-manned, out-stepped and out-polished his Hawkeye defenders.

The Hoosiers were held stagnant through the first seven minutes of the game until the first of the Laufenberg-to-Gunn connections. From his own 20, Laufenberg hit Gunn over the middle.

Upon receiving the ball, Gunn preceded to shed Iowa tacklers until he was knocked out-of-bounds on the Hawkeye 43-yard line — a gain of 37 yards and the Hoosiers initial first down.

Gunn slipped away from his defenders five more times in the game, including a 52-yard touchdown strike — where he utilized his speed to out-run defenders Devon Mitchell and Dave Chambers — to open the second quarter.

GUNN, A JUNIOR from Indianapolis, said the touchdown pass was a post pattern where he was to run

Cardinals, Brewers to meet in '82 World Series

St. Louis sweeps 'America's team'

ATLANTA (UPI) — The St. Louis Cardinals punctured the dream of "America's Team" and won their first National League pennant in 14 years Sunday night by defeating the Atlanta Braves, 6-2, behind three RBI's by Willie McGee and a combined six-run hitting by Joaquin Andujar and Bruce Sutter.

McGee belted a two-run triple to highlight a four-run second inning and added a solo home run in the ninth to seal the Braves' doom and give the Cardinals their first pennant since 1968 — the year before major league baseball went to two-division competition.

The Cardinals, who beat the Braves three games to none in the best-of-five series, will host the Milwaukee Brewers in the first game of the World Series beginning Tuesday night at 7:25 p.m.

ALTHOUGH MCGEE provided the offensive punch, it was the pitching of Andujar and Sutter that did in the Braves. Andujar scattered six hits in 6-2-3 innings before turning the game over to Sutter, who got the last seven outs in succession to notch his first save of the playoffs. Sutter also won Saturday night's second game with two innings of hitless relief.

Atlanta manager Joe Torre tried to get his team out of its slump by shaking up his line-up — but it did no good against the right-handed duo. The Braves managed only two hits off Andujar over the first six innings and did not score until the seventh when the Dominican tied.

The Braves' inability to hit St. Louis pitching was their downfall throughout the series. Atlanta managed only five runs and 15 hits in the three games.

THE CARDINALS managed 12 hits off starter and loser Rick Camp and five relievers and St. Louis might have even made it a bigger rout had they not stranded 11 baserunners, including leaving the bases loaded in the seventh and eighth innings.

Besides McGee, Ozzie Smith chipped in with three hits, including an RBI single and Keith Hernandez and George Hendrick also delivered run-scoring singles.

So balanced was St. Louis' attack throughout the series that the Most Valuable Player Award went to catcher Darrell Porter, who was not a factor in the game. Porter managed a single and two walks Sunday night and finished the three games with five hits in nine at-bats and five walks.

THE BRAVES, who have never won a playoff game in six attempts dating to their first appearance in 1969, hoped to pull off a Cinderella finish to their season. The club became a kind of champion of the underdog this year after upsetting the Los Angeles Dodgers for the NL West title.

The Braves became known nationally as "America's Team" because they were seen on television in more households across the nation than any other team, courtesy of owner Ted Turner's cable TV network.

As soon as the final out was recorded, the Cardinals stormed from their dugout and hugged each other by the pitcher's mound as the crowd of 52,173 began quietly filing out of Fulton County Stadium.

It didn't take long for the Cardinals to get to Camp. They chased the right-hander in the second inning, taking a 4-0 lead on a four-hit outburst that featured a two-run triple by McGee.

Milwaukee stages brilliant comeback

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — With one dramatic victory, the Milwaukee Brewers recalled a piece of baseball history and created another.

On the 25th anniversary of the Milwaukee Braves clinching their only championship, the Brewers became the first team to win an American League playoff after losing the first two games.

Riding a wave of hometown support, the Brewers used Cecil Cooper's two-out, two-run single in the seventh inning Sunday to sweep past the California Angels 4-3 into the World Series.

It also extended the frustration of California manager Gene Mauch, whose team lost three straight at County Stadium after winning the first two handily at home. Mauch has managed 23 years in the big leagues without a pennant.

"I'm not frustrated, I'm probably

Freshmen key to field hockey win

By Mike Condon
Staff Writer

Before the start of this season, Iowa field hockey Coach Judith Davidson said the key to her squad becoming a legitimate contender for the national championship would be how quickly the incoming freshmen would develop and contribute.

The Hawks certainly had unlikely heroes in Friday's 2-0 victory over Northwestern, and on Sunday, the more familiar names dominated Iowa's 6-0 triumph over Michigan State.

Friday's Northwestern game put an end to any doubt about the ability of the rookies to play and contribute in important matches. Forwards Marcia Pankratz and Deb Brickey along with links Kim Herrmann and Mary Koboldt played key roles as the second-ranked Hawks pinned the Wildcats at Kinnick Stadium.

Northwestern Coach Nancy Stevens was surprised by the play of Iowa's underclass. "We controlled their big guns," (Ellen) Egan and (Anne-Marie) Thomas, but those freshmen really picked them up and that's the sign of a national championship team."

PANKRATZ, who didn't start in Friday's contest, scored the first goal just five minutes after replacing Leticia Rodriguez at left outside forward. She broke across the circle and took a perfect pass from Koboldt at 30:30 of the first half and slammed the ball past Wildcat goaltender Tracy White to give Iowa the lead for good.

"I was just breaking through the middle and Mary hit me with a perfect pass and I just put it in," Pankratz said of the goal. "Judith told me that we needed more pressure when I came in so that's what I did and we got the goal."

The freshman connection struck again midway through the second half as Brickey dug the ball out of a crowd in the corner and hit Koboldt, who was left unmarked in the circle. The speedy link then lifted the ball past White to put the Hawks ahead by two.

"I was coming across and Deb just layed the ball on my stick," Koboldt said. "We were just so psyched today and the fans really got behind us."

BUT IT TOOK an old pro to keep the Wildcats off the scoreboard. Senior All-American Donna Lee made spectacular saves on point-blank shots in each half to stymie Northwestern. Stevens calls Lee "a superior collegiate goaltender" while Davidson used the word "super" to describe Lee's work.

If anyone thought Iowa might be a little flat against Michigan State on Sunday, Thomas proved them wrong in the space of 45 seconds. She scored on a rebound midway through the first half to get the Hawks on the board and before that goal was even recorded in the book, the Dorval, Quebec, native slammed home her second goal on a breakaway and Iowa never looked back.

Thomas went on to add two more goals and Sue Bury and Rodriguez each scored as Iowa went on to post a 6-0 win over the Spartans to increase its record to 12-0 on the season, 3-0 in the Big Ten.

THE GAME was physical to say the least as Thomas was issued a yellow card in the first half when she got tangled up with a Spartan player. Both Michigan State and Iowa had players receive slight injuries during a rugged second half that saw one Spartan player having to be carried off the field with a knee injury.

Connecticut continues to lead the NCAA Coaches Poll this week but that may change when the new poll is released. The Huskies were upset on Thursday by Springfield College, 3-1, but they were playing without their coach who was injured in an automobile accident before the game.

Davidson says the Huskies will probably hold on to the top spot but she also added that the Hawks are bound to pick up a few first place votes after their effort last weekend.

Stevens has no doubt where the Hawkeyes will be when the next poll is taken. "The way Judith had her squad playing today, I am almost sure that Iowa will be moving to the top of the polls and after what I saw (Friday) it will take a very tough team to take that top spot away from them because they are a hungry team."

and was browsing around and saw the tight end coming out on the trail and the quarterback start his throw, so I came up.

"It was a good hit, Coach (Bill) Brashier always says to put your head outside of the receiver so he can't go outside and can only go back inside, so that's what I did."

IOWA'S DEFENSE made several big plays during the game, but none were bigger than Mitchell's tackle.

"When we were in the last seconds of the ballgame, we just held hands and said, 'Let's hold them, let's stop them.' And we did," Mitchell said.

"I was just hoping and praying for an interception, anything," Iowa quarterback Chuck Long said. "I couldn't see the tackle very well from the sidelines, but (McNabb) couldn't get out-of-bounds, I just looked up at the clock, two, one, zero and they didn't have and timeouts left. I just couldn't believe it. I didn't think the clock was down that far."

Corso's job of rebuilding his football team from a mental standpoint will be tough. The Hoosiers next test Minnesota in Minneapolis, a loser to Northwestern last Saturday, 31-21. "We have to get going," said Corso, who saw his team fall to 2-3 overall and 1-2 in the conference.

Fry seemingly has the right recipe brewing again for the Hawks, now 3-2 with three straight victories, including a perfect 2-0 mark in the Big Ten. Iowa starts a string of three critical games this week when it plays Michigan in Kinnick Stadium Saturday.

"We can become a much better football team than we've shown," Fry said. "I don't think we can hustle, or play with much more enthusiasm or show more heart than we have. I'm just captivated completely by my football team's effort."

down the field 10 yards and break inward. "Before I broke, the ball was in the air, which I didn't expect," he said.

Gunn wasn't Laufenberg's only target as he used a total of eight receivers to riddle the Hawkeyes' pass defense on this record-setting day. Tight end Scott McNabb also caught six passes, including Laufenberg's final pass of the day that almost won the game.

LAUFENBERG HAD only one bad pass in the whole game, an interception into the hands of Iowa defender Ron Hawley with just over a minute to go.

There was hurt showing in the eyes of Gunn and Laufenberg as they recalled the events of the day, because what all their heroics boiled down to is defeat. "It's satisfaction, but I don't feel good," Laufenberg said of his record-setting performance. "I'm not going to go out and say 'hey, we lost, no problem.' I set a record; what happened?"

Gunn added, "I'm not too concerned with what I did today. The team played well too. The breaks didn't go our way. The numbers on the board are what count to me the most. We got beat."

Minnesota falls victim to Wildcats' defense

United Press International

It's beginning to look like a topsy-turvy year in the Big Ten football race: neither Michigan nor Ohio State is leading the conference and, even more unusual, Northwestern isn't trailing.

The Wildcats sent their homecoming crowd into delirium Saturday and proved that ending their NCAA record 34-game losing streak two weeks earlier was no fluke, compiling a come-from-behind 31-21 win over Minnesota.

It was the Cats' first conference triumph in 39 games, the first since 1977, and it plunged the Golden Gophers to sixth place in the loop standings.

Michigan State, trails the leader at 3-0, but Ohio State, rocked 6-0 by Wisconsin, dropped to 1-1 in the league and 2-3 overall.

The scoring was done with rather early in Wisconsin's first win in Columbus since 1918 and Ohio State's third straight loss.

"Defense won the game for us," Badger Coach Dave McClain said. "Last week we had a coaches' meeting and had to decide on whether to put in some new techniques or just do a better job of coaching on what we had been doing. We studied Ohio State films and just coached a little bit harder."

Michigan State dropped to 0-5 on the year and 0-3 in the league with its loss to cross-state rival Michigan. Bo Schembechler has lost just once to the Spartans since dropping his inaugural meeting with them in 1969.

the heck are you going to blame. We lost. Blame the Brewers."

COOPER'S BASES-LOADED blow came with Milwaukee trailing 3-2 and the crowd of 54,968 imploring the Brewers to complete their run to the pennant and a berth in the World Series.

"The middle of our line-up hasn't been hitting at all," said Cooper. "We've been struggling. We've been trying to do too much. Maybe now we can relax and enjoy the World Series."

"I think I'm going to get a hit every time I come up to the plate," said Cooper, who was 2-for-19 before the hit. "I had a lot of chances today to drive in runs and I'm just thankful to God I had the opportunity. If I had struck out then, I would have been the goat."

After Carew grounded out short to first to end the game, catcher Ted Simmons jumped into the arms of reliever Pete "Big Foot" Ladd and the crowd swarmed the field in jubilation.

THE BREWERS showed their appreciation of the crowd support by returning to the field to share in the celebration. They held champagne bottles aloft and sprayed the liquid until security considerations forced them to retreat.

The winning pitcher was Bob McClure, who relieved starter Pete Vuckovich with one out and one on in the seventh and threw a double play ball to Jackson. Ladd stomped out California's last hopes by relieving McClure with one on and none out in the ninth for his second save of the series. Luis Sanchez, in relief of starter Bruce Kison, allowed Cooper's hit and took the loss.

On the line

This week's On the Line winner is Barry Neville, who correctly picked seven of nine winners to claim an eight-gallon keg of beer compliments of Woodfields.

Neville's effort, needless to say, was outstanding considering the rash of upsets and ties that plagued college football last weekend. Heck, even Northwestern won, but they weren't on the ballot.

Besides the beer, Neville's winning entry will be installed into The Daily Iowan's On the Line Hall of Fame.

The two games Neville missed were Tennessee at Louisiana State and Arizona at UCLA, both ending up in a tie. It really didn't matter, as everyone else stumbled on the two games anyway.

Assistant Sports Editor Melissa Isaacson went 6-4 on the 10 games to grab a 33-17 lead in the contest among sports writers. Sports Editor Jay Christensen, with a 5-5 performance, is second with 32-18. Assistant Sports Editor Steve Baterson, also at 5-5, stands at 31-19.
