Hawkeyes hit Indiana early in 49-3 triumph

By Bob Denney Gazette sportswriter

IOWA CITY — So, who needs Duane Gunn?

Indiana's Hoosiers may have the "fastest Gunn in the west" at wide receiver, but Iowa's Hawkeyes have the slickest in Dave Moritz.

Moritz, who could probably catch a pass in his sleep, put Indiana's Hoosiers to bed Saturday in a 49-3 rout at Kinnick Stadium.

A frustrated basketball player at St. Rita High School in Chicago, Moritz etched his name in University of Iowa football lore by catching 11 passes for a school record 192 yards and two touchdowns to spark the 17th-ranked Hawkeyes before a Parent's Day crowd of 66,055.

• With his 192 yards (a yard more than Keith Chappelle had against Illinois in 1980), the 6-foot, 185-pound senior boosted his career receiving yards to a record 1,775. That surpassed the old mark of 1,642 set by Al Bream from 1966-68.

• Moritz's 11 receptions left him tied for third for most catches in a single game. His two TDs (a 20-yarder from quarterback Chuck Long and a 11-yarder from Tom Grogan) left him two shy of the season TD reception record (6).

Moritz's success overshadowed all-Big Ten receiver Gunn's four catches for 56 yards as the Hawkeyes (6-2 and 4-2 in the Big Ten) manhandled Indiana (3-5 and 2-4). Iowa rolled up 658 yards total offense, 409 through the air, and supported things with a swarming defense that held the Hoosiers to 231 yards (52 on the ground).

The Iowa rushing attack enjoyed its second best effort of the year at 249 yards. Eddie Phillips and Owen Gill combined for three touchdowns and 172 yards. Phillips had 93 yards in 12 attempts. Gill had 79 yards in 14 carries for two touchdowns.

The overall Iowa performance obviously pleased Holiday, Peach, Hall of Fame, Florida Citrus and Libery bowl representatives in the press box.

Moritz was a humble hero after-

"I'm glad we won," he said. "I didn't think we'd ever get it (the record) today. I thought we'd run the ball today. But, I'm happy as hell. I can't lie about that."

Moritz, who was timed in 4.6 and 4.7 seconds in the 40-yard dash by pro scouts recently, said football wasn't originally in his plans.
"I tried out for football my junior year. I rode the wood for a year and played my senior year. I wanted to be a basketball player, but things didn't go too well."

Iowa Coach Hayden Fry praised

Iowa Coach Hayden Fry praised Moritz, adding, "It was really wonderful for him to set the record today. He felt the whole world was on his shoulders last week (a 16-13 loss to Michigan) because he was

Illinois rolls into Big Ten lead

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — The large silver bell was built during World War II for a battleship, the USS Illinois.

But the war ended before the ship was finished and the bell lay unused in a Washington museum until last year, when it was donated to the University of Illinois' Naval ROTC unit.

The bell was rung for the first time before last year's Michigan game, and at each ensuing home game whenever Illinois scored, but never had it been rung like it was Saturday. More than a half-hour after the final gun, happy Illinois fans were still walking past the bell and clanging it merrily.

In fact, it has been 20 years since Illinois had posted a victory to match Saturday's 16-6 triumph over Michigan.

Jack Trudeau atoned for two costly fumbles by throwing a pair of touchdown passes and the ninth-ranked Illini, seeking their first Rose Bowl trip in 20 years, took over undisputed possession of the Big Ten lead by defeating No. 8 Michigan. "Jack Trudeau reacts unbelievably well to adversity," said Illinois Coach Mike White. "I adversity," said Illinois Coach Mike White. "I didn't have to tell him anything after the fumbles. He had a great day passing and I'm sure his statistics will show that (21 of 31 for 271 yards)."

The victory was Illinois' seventh in a row since an opening-game non-league loss to Missouri and its longest winning streak since 1951. It gave the Illini a 6-0 Big Ten record for the first time in 69 years and a one-game lead over Michigan, which is 5-1 in league play and 6-2 total.

Both teams have three conference games remaining.

"I feel we are the favorites to go to the Rose Bowl," White said. "Who are we kidding? But I'll tell you something — I learned a long time ago that you have to play every game.

"But I'm really proud. Success is never-ending and this isn't the end of the line for our program, but it does point up the fact that we've gotten the job done."

Trudeau passed nine yards to fullback Thomas Rooks with 1:50 left in the first half to give Illinois a 7-3 lead.

After Michigan trimmed the lead to 7-6 midway through the third period on Bob Bergeron's second field goal of the game, Trudeau helped wrap up Illinois' first triumph over the Wolverines since 1966 with a 46-yard scoring pass to split end David Williams on the first play of the final quarter.

Illinois added a safety with 1:22 remaining when Michigan's Evan Cooper fielded a punt in the end zone and was tackled by Illinois' Joe

The victory was achieved before a record Illinois crowd of 76,127. The Illini have not finished higher than a tie for third in the Big Ten in two decades.

Ralph's debut

Ralph Sampson collected 18 points and 12 rebounds in his NBA debut Saturday, leading Bill Fitch's Houston Rockets to a 106-100 win over San Antonio.

Missouri turns ISU miscues into 41-18 victory

By Brian Chapman
Gazette sportswriter

AMES — Missouri Coach Warren Powers will never be described as the Thomas A. Edison of college football — inventive his Tigers aren't.

But Powers' Missouri outfit is solid, if not colorful, and the Tigers were certainly fit enough for the task before them on this blustery, chilly day in Ames, rolling to a relatively easy conquest of the Cyclones, 41-18.

Henderson is hot, page 4B

Iowa State deployed yet another in a long line of defensive schemes and once again received a record-setting passing performance from quarter-back David Archer, but that combination wasn't nearly enough to overcome the plague of mistakes which wiped out any ISU hopes of posting an upset.

Missouri rocked the Cyclones with a 39-yard, 18-second touchdown drive in the final moments of the first half, then recorded back-to-back TD tallies on its first two possessions of the third quarter to ice its fifth win in eight games.

"Against a team as good as Missouri, you can't make as many turnovers as we did today and expect to win," explained ISU Coach Jim Criner in his post-game meeting with the media. "The tough thing is, we have not been a big turnover

"Then, too, most of the turnovers gave them good field position and they got four, maybe five, scores from them."

Iowa State lost three of its six fumbles and had two passed intercepted.

The game was just three plays old when the Cyclones turned in Big Error No. 1: Missouri's punt from its own 21 yard line was short, but the Tigers received a new lease on the ball when it took an irregular bounce off the turf and hit ISU be backer Ralph Conner on the leg.

Missouri leaped on the ball at the Cyclone 41, and 10 plays later quarterback Marlon Adler slid into the end zone for the first of his school record-tying four TD runs.

The Cyclones rebounded, scoring twice, and held an 11-7 lead and possession of the ball when Big Error No. 2 turned up. Archer directed the Cyclones from their own 33 to the Tiger 44. On third down 13, Archer, chased out of the pocket, flipped a short pass over the middle where Mizzou linebacker Jay Wilson showed up just in time to pick it off

The Tigers moved 53 yards for the score in nine plays, but before they put the ball across the goal line, it became clear they would benefit from a bit of luck this day as well as from Cyclone miscues. The Cyclones slammed into Tiger reserve fullback Santio Barbosa, who spun into the air and seemed to lose the ball at the 6. Surprisingly, the ball was called dead by the officials.

Then, with a fourth-and-one at the 3, ISU linebacker Jim Luebbers slapped Adler's swing pass to reserve tailback Jon Redd catywampus. But the ball had enough velocity to tumble into Redd's waiting hands for the score.

The Cyclones were lively on offense the first half, too.

Iowa State's first possession covered 55 yards, highlighted by Archer's 16-yard aerial to Dan Gantt. The big (6-3, 205), speedy split end leaped horizontally to make a nifty grab. After stalling on the nine, Marc Bachrodt booted a 26-yard field goal.

The next time ISU got its hands on the ball, the Cyclones concluded a 45-yard march with a high, arching 33-yard timing pass from Archer to soph Tracy Henderson, who sprinted down the right sideline then leaped, ballet-style, and made the catch in the end zone. ISU held an 11-7 lead at the quarter break.

balance," explained Archer. "We used a lot of formations that confused them; several times they weren't sure where to lineup and we got the snap off before they could adjust. "I think in the second quarter we threw the ball more, we didn't balance our offense with the run, and they teed off on us more." Nevertheless, Archer and Henderson bedeviled Missouri all afternoon long with an aerial act that rewrote several school records. Archer hit 29-of-47 passes for two TDs and 278 yards, a performance which tied the mark he set for attempts in the Kansas victory earlier this month. The 29 completions eclipsed the record 28 he had against the Jayhawks. Archer also shattered George Amundson's fumble on the Iowa State 9 in the fourth quarter . (1970-72) career completion mark of 145. Archer made it easy for Missouri to notch its final now has 165. The senior from Soda Springs, Idaho, also stands just 118-yards shy of Amundson's season passing record of 1,957, and 561 yards under Amundson's season total offense

The Cyclone defense, anything but a granite wall this season, made a respectable showing the first half. The defenders forced the Tigers to punt on four of its seven ball possessions and picked off an Adler pass at the Iowa State four to end one threat. "The defense was pretty fired up to play the best game we could," said an up-beat junior Lester Williams, outside linebacker who starred at Cedar Rapids Jefferson. "We were sure we had a couple of fumbles we caused that we didn't get, but that's football."

IOWA CITY - Two contrasting versions of Sam Wyche showed up for the post-game interview Saturday afternoon underneath Kinnick Stadium. The first version was full of praise for the high-flying Hawkeyes after their 49-3 demolition of Wyche's Hoosiers. But the second version was upset, though composed, when answering questions concerning lowa's lastsecond touchdown.

"I don't believe I've ever been around a team where things went so well for them. It was almost uncanny. Obviously, they have great

"Defensively, we just couldn't seem to handle them. They are deserving of a major bowl appearance. I wish them the best."

But the very first question from a newsman, Mike Reilly of WMT Radio, caused Wyche to change his direction, if not his expression or his tone.

Reilly asked Wyche what he thought of Iowa's last touchdown, which came on a 10-yard pass from thirdstring quarterback Cornelius Robertson to down-theline wide receiver Scott Helverson, a walk-on from Des Moines. It came after Robertson called time out with just seconds left in the game.

"What do you think?" retorted Wyche, his voice calm. "Was that kind of a crummy deal? What do you think of it?" When Reilly offered no opinion, Wyche responded, "You don't know? You must not have been around football very long. Gee, I think you're in the wrong

Later, Wyche said he would not forget the game. "I'll remember the how, where and when. Let's see, it was about 4:10, wasn't it?" That was the time the game

Wyche said that going into the game he felt the Hoosiers would need to score four touchdowns to win. But he didn't think Iowa was going to have the kind of game it did. "I don't make any bones about it, they're just a much better football team than we are at this point. When you have three quarteracks who can come in and move the ball like that, well . . . " Wyche also had words of praise for his team: "I think "That was one tremendous football team, I'll have to they were playing their hearts out. I think they got Both Wyche and Chris Sigler, Indiana's strong safety, said the lowa team they played Saturday was the best offensive team they've seen this season.

"Probably today, it was the most diversified team we've seen," added Sigler, a junior who faced the unenviable task of trying to help stop the prolific lowa passing attack. "There were a couple of plays when Long was almost sacked, then he'd get it off. When you get things like that happening to you, it's tough to come back. If we hadn't let them get out of the gate like they did (lowa led 21-0 at 3:49 of the first period), it might have been different."

Sigler also called Dave Moritz, who had a recordbreaking day for lowa, one of the best all-around receivers he has played against.

"He rates right up there among the top two or three receivers in the Big Ten, without a doubt," said Sigler. Did Sigler think Iowa's Hayden Fry was guilty of running up the score?

"I think everyone who plays doesn't like to have it rubbed in your face when you get beat," he said softly, "and we were beat. But it's his team. I know they are trying to impress the bowl people. I don't agree with it, but they have to do what they have to do."

Moritz dazzled the Hoosiers but lowa's offense made up for its penalties with another sparkling effort from Long, now 38 yards short of the all-time school passing mark of 3,738 yards by Gary Snook. Long completed 16 of 25 passes for 233 yards and one TD, and ran 11 yards for another score. It was his seventh 200-plus yard game of the year and eighth of his career.

Reserve quarterbacks Grogan and Cornelius Robertson were also heard from with a scoring pass apiece. Grogan filled in for Long with 14:14 left to play. His 11-yard toss to Moritz with 3:03 remaining was the record-setting combination.

Robertson's 10-yard TD pass to walk-on Scott Helverson with no time remaining gave Indiana Coach Sam Wyche reason to be upset. Robertson passed six times in the final 47 seconds, leading a scoring drive of 60 yards and calling time out with three seconds left.

"No, I won't forget this one," Wyche said, smoldering. "I think it was a crummy thing. Didn't you?"

Fry, whose team built a 28-3 halftime advantage and coasted after that, defended Robertson and Grogan's late passing.

"I've got guys like Cornelius Robertson and Tom Grogan and people that work out every day and never get the chance to play," Fry said. "Both of those quarterbacks would like an opportunity to play pro ball. And, the only way they are going to have a chance is to have a film where we can show the pro scouts their ability."

Fry said he didn't call time out to set up the last touchdown.

"I wasn't trying to run up the score," he said. "They're passers. That's their skill and that's what they did. I didn't call timeout, that was Cornelius. Cornelius practices every day just like he's going to Henderson might soon be wearing start. And, this is one of the few times in two years he's had a chance to play."

> The Hawkeyes scored on their first three possessions to settle things early. Gill capped a six-play, 45-yard drive with a 16-yard run with 11:02 remaining in the quarter. Moritz then capped an 85-yard march, hauling in his first scoring pass to make it 14-0. He snared the 20-yarder from Long in the right corner of the end zone with 6:10 on the clock.

Henderson turns in sparkling show

AMES — Tracy Henderson smiles and talks almost as well as he catches passes.

And if you've seen the Iowa State offensive attack at all this fall, you know Henderson must be able to grin and gab with the best of them.

The sophomore wide receiver enjoyed his greatest day yet Saturday as he caught 12 passes for 161 yards and two touchdowns in the Cyclones' 41-18 loss to Missouri.

Afterward, Henderson did plenty of talking. And, despite the loss, he didn't have to strain to smile. "Inside, I guess I can enjoy a game like this," he said. "That doesn't mean I want to go and turn the radio on and listen to myself or anything like that.

"I'd rather win the game. If I only catch one pass, or even no passes, and we win, it would be better than this. I wanted to win. This is an 11- in the first quarter. man game; it's not golf. Individual records don't mean much."

Nevertheless, Henderson's list of records and potential records after Saturday's performance is imposing: It was the second best single-

Otto Stowe's 1970 record total. And it gave him 733 receiving yards, third only to Stowe's 822 in 1970 and Barney's 782 in 1966.

Larry's found his station at lowa

By Gus Schrader Gazette sports columnist

IOWA CITY — Don't worry, Coach Hayden Fry — Larry Station insists he's not going to campaign for a shot at a running back's spot.

The husky Iowa linebacker intercepted an Indiana pass and ran it back 20 yards to set up the fifth Hawkeye touchdown Saturday. He broke at least one tackle, and a newsman suggested that in doing so he looked like Owen Gill.

"You know what?" grinned Station. "I was thinking of that after I caught the ball and started to run. I asked myself, 'What would Owen Gill do in a situation like this?'

"Maybe I should do like Ronnie Harmon did and tell the coaches I want to be moved to running back. No, I'm only kidding, as I'd better stay at linebacker."

Station recalled he did play running back in high school (Omaha Central), but it was his defensive play that attracted college scouts.

"That was my first interception of the year," added Station, "I intercepted one last year. I should have intercepted a pass against Purdue this year, but I had those heavy gloves on my hands and couldn't hold the ball. Today, the pass was deflected and it was pretty soft when it came to me."

Mike Stoops, who also had an interception (his fifth), thought he had two Saturday, but the officials ruled it had struck the ground first.

"It didn't matter, but I thought it only bounced off the Indiana receiver," Stoops said. "The deep-official came up and ruled it had hit the ground."

The Iowa strong safety was asked if he was surprised the Hoosiers were able to get the ball only four times to Duane Gunn, their fast, clever senior receiver who has bedeviled Iowa in previous seasons.

"I talked with Duane after the game, and I asked him if he has been injured," Stoops replied. "He said he had only some nagging injuries, but he also said Indiana has gone to a short-passing, ball-control type of offense, and they don't throw long to him very often."

A reporter told Stoops that Indiana Coach Sam Wyche had said he had rarely seen a team get as many breaks as Iowa did. "I don't understand that," he noted. "I think you make your own breaks. If you are aggressive and make the big plays, things happen."

Other Hawkeye quotes:

• Fry — "I have loyalty to my men, and I know both Tom Grogan and Cornelius Robertson have pro ambitions. I'll be dad-gummed if I'm going to tell my quarterbacks to go into a game and not throw the ball just because we're ahead. I took Chuck Long out, and I probably should have left him in so he would rank higher nationally. I know that's what Brigham Young does to keep Steve Young's passing stats up."

• Joe Levelis, offensive tackle — "I don't know why the officials called us so many times (four) for holding. It got to be silly out there. We're coached not to hold, although I'll admit there are times when an offensive lineman is better off holding when it saves his quarterback maybe from getting killed."

• Chuck Long, QB — "No, I'm not disappointed at not breaking the record (school mark for career passing yards). It will be sweeter to break it on the road. I know it's going to come sooner or later . . . I was pleased to see Dave Moritz break the records for receiving, as he's a fine receiver and deserves it. Indiana was worried about Dave today, and that gave us some underneath routes today . . .I've never played at Madison, so I'm looking forward to going there next Saturday. I hear it's a wild town."

• Fry again — "That Steve Helverson is a walk-on wide receiver (from Des Moines East) who has caught two touchdown passes (his only catches of the season). We may have to find him a scholarship."

• Jeff Drost, freshman defensive tackle — "I don't mind being a back-up player (behind Paul Hufford and George Little), because they deserve to start. They're better than I am now, but they'll be seniors next year, and I'll have two more years after that."

• Fry one more time — "I was proud of our defense today, especially because we didn't use Erric Hedgeman at linebacker, where we're awfully thin. He's been hurt, but he might have played today if needed. Jon Roehlk hurt an ankle, and you never know about that. Owen Gill pulled a hamstring. That could be bad. Joel Hilgenberg went out with an injury, and I'm not sure how serious it is."

Dave Moritz, above, narrowly misses a pass during Saturday's victory over Indiana. Moritz didn't miss many, however, as he hauled in 11 for 192 yards and two touchdowns, and set two lowa records. At right, lowa quarter-back Chuck Long pitches the ball out while John Alt (left) and Glenn Buggs provide protection.
