Jeff Moe, a 6-foot-3 guard from Indianapolis has committed to play basketball for Iowa next season, The Daily Iowan has learned.

Marty Eckelbarger, Moe's coach at Brebeuf High School in Indianapolis, confirmed Sunday evening that Moe will sign a national letter of intent on

Recruiting

Nov. 10 to play for Coach George Raveling's Hawkeyes.

"Jeff has basically committed to Iowa," Eckelbarger said. "I'm very pleased with Jeff's choice. He's getting himself into a national championship-type program."

When contacted at home, Moe confirmed his coach's statement. Although he waited until now to announce his decision, Moe said he made his final decision last week.

THE ALL-STATE guard was impressed with the people at Iowa. "I liked the people so much," Moe said. "The coaching staff and the fans were great. And, the academics are just as good as any other school."

Moe, who carries a 3.6 grade point average at Brebeuf, is anxiously awaiting the opportunity to play for Raveling and his staff. "I'm looking forward to just learning a lot because the coaching staff is so good," he said.

He becomes the second prep to commit early to the Hawkeyes. Al Lorenzen, a 6-9 forward from Cedar Rapids Kennedy High School committed to Iowa early last spring.

Eckelbarger compares Moe to present Michigan State guard Scott Skiles. "He's a real rugged player like Skiles or (Steve) Grote who played for Michigan in the mid 70s," Eckelbarger said. "Jeff is one of the top two players in the state. It'll be between him and Delray Brooks for the 'Mr. Basketball' award."

THE INDIANA Mr. Basketball award is one of the most prestigious high school awards in the country. The 1983 winner, Steve Alford, was one of Indiana Coach Bobby Knight's top recruits this season.

"Jeff is a tremendous all-around player," Eckelbarger said. "He doesn't do any one thing better than the rest. He has a well-rounded game." Moe decided on Iowa over five other schools — Duke, Clemson, USC, Northwestern and Purdue. Surprisingly, Knight's Hoosiers weren't on Moe's final list. "He heard a lot from Indiana," Eckelbarger said.

Iowa is apparently still in the race for five other prep phenoms. Kevin Walls, a 6-2 guard from Camden N.J. who was reported to have dropped Iowa from his list, is still interested in playing for the Hawkeyes.

Another player insiders say the Hawkeyes may be close to signing is 6-5 swingman Demetrius Gore.

The Iowa volleyball squad assured itself of a final four Big Ten tournament spot with convincing road defeats over Western Division foes, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Illinois last weekend.

Northwestern eliminated Wisconsin and Minnesota — both in three games — to stay one match behind in the Hawkeyes in the standings with a 7-2 mark. Iowa boosted its divisional record to 8-1 with the three victories.

"We are very happy to be in the Big Ten tournament," said Iowa Coach, Sandy Stewart. "Now our goal would probably be to finish ahead of our division so we won't have to play Purdue in the first round."

Iowa will get a good taste of the Big Ten tournament's competition when they face the other three qualifiers, Northwestern, Purdue and Ohio State, in their next three matches.

CONSISTENT surges of momentum and an overall exhibition of teamwork proved again to be the winning combination for Iowa Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Once the Hawkeyes passing started to flow, everything about the Iowa offense began to click, according to Stewart. Things on the road didn't start to click right away, however.

"I was a little worried about Minnesota," Stewart said. "They got up on us 10-1 and I thought, 'Oh, no.'"

Minnesota went on to win the first game, 15-5, but Iowa retaliated to take the second game, 15-7.

"The third game was crucial," Stewart said. "We were down 14-10 and we came back to win 16-14."

IOWA, SPARKED by 21 kills from senior hitter, Sally Harrington — who reportedly was "putting down everything set to her," — defeated Minnesota for the second time this season, beating the Gophers, 15-6, in the fourth game to win the match.

Similarly, the Badgers were ahead of the Hawkeyes, 4-0, in the first game — resulting from four consecutive Iowa reception errors — before the Hawks rebounded to score 15-straight points. Iowa fell behind, 12-5 and 11-7 in the second and third games of the match before bouncing back to score 10 and eight-straight points respectively to win the contest, 15-4, 15-12, 15-11.

STEWART SAID Iowa played the three-game match in Madison very well. Without the intimidating attack of Badger senior hitter, Megan Scott, who recorded only 12 kills and committed 11 errors, Wisconsin didn't have much offensive punch, according to Stewart.

Iowa had plenty of punch in the first two games of their Illinois match the following afternoon in Champaign, but the Fighting Illini apparently weren't ready to lose to the Hawkeyes in three games as they had earlier in Iowa City.

"We won the first two games fairly easily, and we were up 10-2 in the third game," Stewart said. "I wanted to substitute in some people who hadn't been playing and I guess (Illinois) warmed up."

The Daily Iowan/David Zalaznik

Indiana tailback Todd Hansley is unable to escape the grasp of Iowa defensive end Tony Wancket in third quarter of the Hawkeyes' 49-3 win over the Hoosiers Saturday afternoon at Kinnick Stadium. Hansley carried two times for five yards in the game while Wancket, a junior, recorded six solo tackles to go along with one assist.

Passing attack leads Hawkeyes past Hoosiers

By Robert Ryser
Staff Writer

Indiana Coach Sam Wyche led his beaten team back onto the field after Iowa had humbled his Hoosiers, 49-3.

He huddled the cream and crimson squad on the 50-yard line and kept them there for a moment, as the Hawkeye Band curiously marched in place on the sidelines and the 66,055 fans filtered out of Kinnick Stadium.

"I just wanted (Indiana) to remember all that took place," Wyche said after the game. "I wanted them to stay out there and reflect on what had just happened — everything from the first quarter to the last seven seconds."

THAT LAST SEVEN seconds will be memorable for third-string quarterback, Cornelius Robertson, who skillfully lofted a 10-yard, over-the-shoulder touchdown pass to wide receiver Scott Helverson as the last seconds ticked off the clock. Robertson's pass to freshman Robert Smith the previous play had been incomplete and the senior quarterback had immediately called a time out with three seconds remaining.

"I wasn't trying to run up the score," Iowa Coach Hayden Fry said. "I didn't call that time out... Corny did."

Fry said he once had been the coach who was having the score run up on him, but maintained his intention Saturday was not to do so against Indiana.

"I am much more loyal to my players' (feelings) than I am to the opposing teams' feelings," Fry said. "I've got guys like (Tom) Grogan and Robertson who would like to play pro ball — we have got to have films of those guys to show scouts... I was impressed with both Grogan and Robertson."

WYCHE WAS ALSO impressed with Iowa's back-up quarterbacks.

"Iowa is a far superior team to ours," Wyche said. "They have a lot more depth than we do — all three of their quarterbacks can move the ball down the field — quarterbacks are the ones you notice the most."

"I have never been around a team that has so many things go well for them," Wyche said. "Those quarterbacks would complete the ball when we had them in our grasp and (Iowa) receivers would make great over-the-shoulder catches with seconds left on the clock."

Wyche praised Iowa's offensive and defensive superiority over Indiana, but he was quick to stipulate that he was not ashamed of his Hoosiers' performance, which offensively was the its poorest production of the season.

Crafty Moritz catches reception records

By Steve Batterson
Sports Editor

He has the fingers of a thief.

All you have to do is listen to the opposition complain about how often they've been robbed by the catches of Iowa wide receiver Dave Moritz — catches opposing coaches deem uncatchable.

But week in and week out, Moritz — a team player in every sense of the word — continues to frustrate opposing defenses.

In Saturday's 49-3 romp over Indiana, Moritz continued to quietly work his way into the Iowa record book, breaking two Hawkeye standards including the career receiving mark.

THE SENIOR FROM Chicago St. Rita High School has now picked up 1,775 yards in his career, lifting him past Al Bream's 1,642 mark set in 1966-68. Moritz' 192 yards receiving in the Big Ten win was the most ever in a single game for an Iowa player, edging Keith Chappelle by a yard. Chappelle set that mark in 1980 against Illinois.

Two of Moritz' catches were for touchdowns, one a 20-yarder from quarterback Chuck Long in the first quarter and the other an 11-yard strike from reserve quarterback Tom Grogan in the fourth quarter.

Following the game, Moritz preferred to talk about the team's win rather than his own personal honors.

"It's nice, but I'm more glad that we won the game," Moritz said. "I didn't think we'd ever get it (the record) today, I thought we'd run the ball today. But I'm happy as hell, I can't lie about that."

"I DIDN'T FEEL any pressure at

"He's a good receiver to throw to," says Iowa quarterback Chuck Long about Dave Moritz, "because he knows how to find an opening."

all," he said. "We don't worry about records."

What makes Moritz such a great target? "Dave improves every year," Long said. "After three years he knows where to go. He's a good receiver to throw to because he knows how to find an opening."

Iowa Coach Hayden Fry said he isn't surprised about Moritz' success. "Dave has always been outstanding," Fry said. "I hope the pros have a place for a little guy who runs good patterns and catches everything close to him. All he does is beat you."

"He had the world on his shoulders today," Fry said referring to a holding call on Moritz in last week's loss at Michigan. "He felt bad because he was the one they threw the flag on at Michigan. It was gratifying to see Dave have a game like he did."

ACCORDING TO THE 6-foot, 185-pounder, the quality of the Iowa offensive line has a lot to do with his success. "The linemen give us good time to get open," Moritz said.

Originally, Moritz' interests were on the basketball court, but the ball wasn't bouncing his way at St. Rita.

"That wasn't working out too well. I hung out with a lot of football players, so they talked me into going out for football for the first time when I was a junior. I sat on the bench most of my first year behind Scott Craig, who went on to play at Purdue."

After being recruited by Iowa, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin, Moritz decided to become a Hawkeye because "they were really the only ones who really went after me. (Quarterback and receivers Coach Bill) Snyder recruited me and he had a lot of confidence in me. Coach Fry was also known for putting the ball in the air."

"HERE AT IOWA, I ran with the scout team my freshman year and that helped me a lot. I caught one pass as a freshman."

Since that time, he's had plenty of opportunities to catch quite a few other passes. Indiana Coach Sam Wyche doesn't doubt that Moritz could get his chance in pro football. "Well, in the pros they look for very specific things," he said. "Four of them, it's speed, quickness, hands and body control or agility. Moritz has three of them and I don't know about the flat out speed, but he probably has that, too."

Moritz said he does have an interest in pro football. "If an opportunity for pro football arose, I'd take it," he said. "But I don't have any control over that kind of thing. Right now, all I can control is that we've got three more games and possibly a bowl game and I'll do my best."

So, for the time being Moritz is content to keep on doing what he does best — catching the impossible catch.

Inconsistent calls concern Fry

By Thomas W. Jargo
Assistant Sports Editor

Iowa football Coach Hayden Fry, like a past Hawkeye mentor who eventually headed for warmer weather, has never been known to take the side of the Big Ten official.

And after Iowa's penalty-stricken offense left the Kinnick Stadium turf following the Hawkeyes' 49-3 romp past Indiana Saturday, Fry voiced his dissension about the officiating in the contest.

The Hawkeyes were penalized 16 times for a total of 135 yards against Indiana, while the officials charged the Hoosiers with only three infractions for 35 yards. Iowa's 135 yards in penalties fell 10 yards short of the stadium record of 145 set by Notre Dame.

FRY EXPRESSED HIS grave concern about the officiating at his post-game press conference Saturday and again at his morning teleconference Sunday.

"Other than the penalties, it was a good game," the fifth-year coach said after the game. "There is not one thing I can say (about the officiating) that would be nice."

Joe Levelis

When Fry was told that the Hawkeyes' fell one penalty short of setting a stadium record, he sarcastically remarked, "If I had known that, we'd have run another play. I'm sure the officials would have accommodated us by throwing another flag."

Many of Iowa's 16 penalties were holding calls, two of which were successive infractions on the Hawkeyes offensive linemen midway through the third quarter of the game, and offsides calls that occurred on the interior line of scrimmage.

IOWA'S RIGHT OFFENSIVE tackle Joe Levelis seemed puzzled by all the infractions. "I can't explain it," he said. "They (the officials) went wild out there. A lot of the holding penalties were on draw plays where you don't really need to block."

"I don't know. Maybe they were feeling sorry for the other team."

Iowa quarterback Chuck Long didn't have an answer to all the penalties either. "It just amazes me why we hold so much and the other team doesn't," he said.

Fry's dissatisfaction with the officiating Saturday is just padding to an earlier quarrel with the officials.

In Iowa's 16-13 defeat against Michigan nine days ago, Hawkeye wide receiver Dave Moritz was called for holding on a play inside the Wolverine five-yard line, which eventually forced Iowa to kick a field goal instead of scoring a touchdown.

MORITZ, WHO WAS not even in the vicinity of the play when the infraction occurred, said he was being held by the Wolverine defender and not doing the holding himself. "My arm just slipped by him," Moritz said. "I guess the referee caught me."

Fry also claims the holding call on Moritz should have gone the other way and that it was a costly mistake for the Hawkeyes. But he said, "Holding calls are judgement calls. They could throw the flags on every play the way the rules are."

Fry, who said the Iowa defenders were being held, face-masked and otherwise by an out-manned Indiana offense with no flags being thrown, is just looking for "consistency" by officials during a game.

Fry may soon be knocking on the Big Ten office door to voice further dissension about the officiating. (Sound familiar?)

team, but they didn't outplay a team who wasn't playing hard," he said.

Wyche showed no resentment towards the Hawkeyes and didn't directly condemn Fry for Iowa's late touchdown surge.

"Wyche didn't say anything to me after the game (concerning the issue)," Fry said.

In fact, the real blame for running up the score on Indiana should be put on senior wide receiver Dave Moritz who broke two school receiving records with his 192 yards in catches.

"(Moritz) is an exceptionally gifted receiver. He has always been outstanding — I hope the pros can find a place for a little guy who runs good patterns and catches everything close to him," Fry said. "It was gratifying to see Dave have a game like he did."

AS REPORTERS CROWDED around the 6-foot, 185-pound Chicago native, who set an Iowa record for most reception yardage in one game, 192, and most career receiving yards, 1,775, Moritz acknowledged the record, but stressed the conference win that put Iowa at 6-2 (and assured the Hawkeyes of a winning season) as more important.

Along with Moritz' impressive offensive statistics, the Iowa squad reached its pregame goal of 500 yards in total offense, according to Fry.

"Coaches have to do a lot of different things to get a team to bounce back from an emotional loss (such as Michigan)," he said.

Fry said he has set specific pregame goals for his teams throughout his coaching career, but it is something that can't be done too often.

"If (a squad) has a goal to work for, they'll tend to (pursue) that goal during the game," he said. "I'm glad it worked for us."

"WE NEEDED TO get the stats up — all-star games like players with big stats," Fry said. "Also, a bowl can sell more tickets if a team has impressive offensive statistics... our players deserve to be rewarded and we really want to go to a bowl game."

Iowa is worthy of a major bowl appearance," Wyche said.

The Hawkeyes came out of the locker room like a team bidding for a bowl berth, scoring 21 points in the first quarter, and shutting down the Indiana offense.

"Indiana is a dangerous football team," Fry said. "It didn't look like it today because we shut them down, but we saw films of them at Michigan, and (Indiana) scored 18 good points on them."

When asked about Iowa's "suspect" defense and why it allowed only three Hoosier points, Wyche said, "I don't think Iowa's defense is suspect... they are a very good defensive team."

FRY SAID SUNDAY after looking at the game films the Iowa defense was much improved over previous games. Fry praised the dominating play of tackle Paul Hufford and end, Tony Wancket, as well as the play of hard-hitting strong safety, Mike Stoops.

"I think the score of the game speaks for itself," sophomore linebacker Larry Station said, who ran an interception back 20 yards in the third quarter and led the Hawkeyes with eight solo tackles.

Fry said the Iowa defensive line kept consistent pressure on Hoosier quarterback, Steve Bradley to the point where the 6-3, 212-pound sophomore was "pushing the panic button" every time he dropped back to pass.

Wyche said Indiana "killed (themselves) on some drives," by turning the ball over, but nothing hurt the Hoosier offense more than the poor passing accuracy of Bradley, who consistently underthrew and overthrew dangerous (and open) receivers such as crafty Duane Gunn and elusive Len Kenebrew.

And while Wyche attributed much of Iowa's success Saturday to superior raw talent and depth, he also mentioned "everything went right for Iowa."

"I think you make your own breaks," said Stoops, who grabbed a first quarter interception. "If you are aggressive and you're conscious of what you're doing, you make things happen."

Turnovers let Tigers wear out ISU defense

AMES, Iowa (UPI) — Iowa State quarterback David Archer and flanker Tracy Henderson teamed up for 12 passes and two touchdowns, but the time the duo spent off the field was more of a factor in the Cyclones' 41-18 loss Missouri.

Five Cyclone turnovers allowed the Tiger offense to wear down Iowa State's defenders and dictate the tempo of Saturday's Big Eight contest, said first-year Cyclone Coach Jim Criner.

"We put the defense on the field way too many times and they ended up giving up big plays," Criner said.

"Those damn turnovers. We couldn't recover from them. Sometimes kids try too hard. That may or may not be the case," he said.

Missouri Coach Warren Powers agreed the Cyclones' three fumbles and two interceptions "helped us a great deal." The miscues set up several Tiger scoring opportunities and enabled quarterback Marlon Adler to tie a school record with four touchdown runs — three on one-yard plunges.

THE LOSS, WHICH dropped Iowa State to 2-2 in the league, 3-5 overall, was not without some bright spots for the Cyclone faithful.

Archer set both single game and season school records in pass completions by hitting on 29 of 47 attempts for 278 yards. The senior has 165 completions for the season, breaking George Amundson's 1972 record of 145.

Henderson, a sophomore, caught 12 of those passes Saturday for 161 yards, including a 34-yard touchdown pass that gave Iowa State an early 11-7 lead. His 53 catches on the season is only seven shy of the Big Eight mark of 60.

Although the Cyclone passing attack was sharp, the running game was limited to just 53 yards by the Tigers' bruising defense. Criner said his team played well at times but was unable to maintain its intensity in the late stages of the game.
