Huskers great; not greatest

LINCOLN, NEB. - The best college football team of 1983? Possibly, maybe even probably, because no one else this season seems to have three stars who can blaze as brilliantly as Mike Rozier, Turner Gill and Irving Fryar.

The best college football team of all-time? Forget it, Charlie. Never mind what Sports Illustrated said before the season was even decently started. Nebraska has yielded 19 points to Colorado, 25 to Kansas State and 29 to Iowa State in the last three weeks, or a few too many to put this group of Black Shirts into any sort of hallowed grouping in this bastion of defense.

Matter of fact, many of the 76,326 in attendance were grousing Saturday while filing out of the stadium because, instead of being content to be the victims in a football massacre, Iowa State and its talented David Archer had audaciously kept bouncing off the artificial turf to keep both sides of the scoreboard blinking in a 72-29 marathon that ended in when the American Football League was just getting started, or maybe a touch game played in a vacant lot. And from the Cyclone standpoint, 72-29 was a lot more fun than, say,

"A win is a win. We set a total scoring record of 101 for this stadium," Husker Coach Tom Osborne was patiently explaining to one of his constituents. "That Archer is a good player."

Nearby, John Melton, the Nebraska assistant in charge of tutoring linebackers and recruiting in Iowa, was shaking his head in amazement.

"You can't shut out anybody any more, but this is ridiculous. How long did that game last?" he was inquiring, of no one in particular. "They're wellcoached. They knew what we were doing. But I'll tell you this, the teams that can run the ball still win the ballgames."

TRUE. OH, SO TRUE. It should be enough to have a fellow such as Rozier, who can manage 212 yards and four touchdowns in 26 carries but Gill, who could have been content with throwing three scoring strikes, also ran for one.

Rozier, Gill and Fryar went into the season all being spoken of as candidates for the Heisman Trophy, and not just by the Husker publicity office. Fryar withdrew from the "competition" early, in favor of Rozier.

However, Gill and Rozier both continue to get widespread attention in the several "Heisman Watches" conducted across the land, and the three josh about it among themselves.

"That's the only way it does get talked about, when we're kidding," says Gill, a senior from Fort Worth, Texas. "But all we really care about is winning all the games and being national champions. If one of us does win the Heisman, it'd be nice."

The consensus is that Rozier is the guy most likely to take the prized trophy, won here previously by Johnny Rodgers, the fellow who used to own the school records of 45 career touchdowns and 270 points that Mike passed in this game. Rodgers' mother came from Omaha for the game.

"I'm pretty proud of breaking his records, 'cause he's a legend around here," said Rozier. "I knew John's mother was in the stands and wanted to give her a little extra."

Rozier, also a senior, weighs 210 pounds, has unbelievable acceleration and can move through tackles like a hot knife through warm butter. Plus all that, he changes directions like a big cat.

-Criner, who is very partial to his own Tracy Henderson as a receiver, admits Fryar is a more polished performer right now. Irving caught five for 114 yards and one touchdown and several of the catches were brilliant.

Of course, Todd Frain, a sophomore from Treynor, Ia., matched Fryar's touchdown production, catching the only throw in his direction and taking it 27 yards for a score. He has five catches this year -- and three touchdowns. "I just don't get many calls. When I do, no one is watching me," says Frain, who had figured on attending Iowa State until a last-minute change of mind.

IT WAS Turner Gill Day in Omaha, too. The Huskers have a neat custom where towns adopt players and honor them. This was the day Omaha had set aside for the quarterback and Register Staff Writer DAVENPORT, IA. - Rodney Taylor's 76-yard scoring gallop on the third play of the second half ignited a 24-point Davenport Central explosion Saturday afternoon and carried the top-rated Blue Devils to a 24-13 class 4-A high school playoff semifinal victory over Dubuque Hempstead.

The victory, Central's 11th straight, advances the Blue Devils to the championship game against defending champion Sioux City Heelan Friday night at the UNI-Dome in Cedar Falls.

Taylor, who rushed for 186 yards and three touchdowns in Wednesday's opening victory over Bettendorf as a fill-in for injured Gary Couch, added three more touchdowns against Hempstead. He scored from one yard out and from 24 yards after his 76-yard scamper had knotted the score at 7-7.

"That play (the 76-yard run) broke our back," said Hempstead Coach Bob Timmerman, who saw his Mustangs lose for the second time in 11 contests. "They went to the trap option in the second half and we just couldn't stop them. Their fullback

Hempstead rules early

Hempstead had dominated the first half, rolling 72 yards in six plays after receiving the opening kickoff. The defense, led by end Russ Rubie, controlled the Blue Devils.

Quarterback Jim Arneson spearheaded Hempstead's opening march, twice running the option for gains of 45 and 12 yards. Fullback Matt MacNider climaxed the drive, bowling over from the three with just 1 minute 59 seconds elapsed.

SIOUX CITY, IA. - Although the Sioux City Heelan football team has bounced around the Class 4-A ratings this fall, the Crusaders Saturday gained a chance to end up where they started the season and ended last in the No. 1 spot.

The Crusaders overcame a rash of early-game mishaps in posting a 20-0 victory over West Des Moines Dowling here in the semifinal round of the 4-A playoffs. The win puts them into Friday's championship game opposite top-rated Davenport Central at 8 p.m. in the UNI-Dome. Heelan has a chance to be the first Class 4-A team to win back-to-back state titles.

The victory was the Crusaders' ninth of the season against two losses, one of the setbacks being a loss to these same Maroons in the season

Despite the hunger for revenge, it took a while for Heelan to get on track on this dark, cold afternoon. Three times the Crusaders knocked on Dowling's door and three times they came up empty-handed.

The first came on the opening possession of the game. Heelan drove from its own 44-yard line to the Dowling 8 and on fourth down, Ken Lafleur's 25-yard field goal attempt missed to the left.

Score Called Back

The Crusaders got the ball back following a Dowling punt and drove to the Dowling 5-yard line before Maroon defensive back Bill McGinn broke up a fourth-down pass in the Then on Heelan's initial possession of the second quarter, bruising running back Doug Skinner fumbled on second down at the Dowling 2-yard line. Dowling defensive tackle Matt O'Donnell got credit for knocking the ball out of Skinner's hands and Pat Carroll recovered.

To make matters even worse in the early going for the giant Heelan crowd that helped fill Memorial Stadium, Jerry Stabile's 65-yard punt return for an apparent touchdown was called back because of a clipping penalty.

"I knew that we'd be able to bounce back," said Heelan Coach Phil Karpuk. "We've done it before. It was just a matter of getting everything

LINCOLN, NEB. - Maybe it didn't have any suspense, and it really wasn't supposed to, but Iowa State's game at mighty Nebraska Saturday sure did have plenty of action.

Records fell over all the place as the Cyclones bowed to the nation's No. 1 team, 72-29, in a free-wheeling show filled with 1,170 yards in total offense.

Statisticians will be kept busy into this coming week totaling the school and Big Eight Conference marks that were broken before Nebraska's standard sellout crowd of 76,326.

The fans may have to wait years before they sit in on another game to match it. Quite possibly they'll never again see two teams go after each other with so much football fireworks.

Certainly on offense the Cornhuskers lived up to their billing as one of the great teams of all time.

They scored Nebraska's most points ever against a Big Eight opponent, and also the most ever against Iowa State, topping the previous high set by Oklahoma in a 63-0 rout of the Cyclones back in Nebraska has become the first team in Big Eight annals to score more than 500 points in one season. That record stands at 529 with two games left, surpassing Oklahoma's 494-point total in 1971.

Mike Rozier, the team's superlative tailback and Heisman Trophy candidate, rushed for 212 yards and scored four touchdowns. He now holds school records for most touchdowns

Hawks stifle Wisconsin bid, 34-14

Hawkeyes score on 3 of first 4 possessions

By BOB DYER Register Staff Writer

MADISON, WIS. — It was a Long Saturday afternoon for both Iowa and Wisconsin, although for entirely different reasons.

Quarterback Chuck Long broke six school records and tied another in leading the Hawkeyes to a surprisingly easy 34-14 triumph over the Badgers.

Meanwhile, lowa's improving defense shut down a Wisconsin attack that ranked seventh nationally in scoring, averaging 34 points a game. The Badgers were held to two meaningless touchdowns in the fourth quarter against Hawkeye reserves.

Long was almost perfect in the first half, completing his first 11 attempts and 13 of 15 for 179 yards and three touchdowns. He left the fray late in the third quarter after throwing four touchdown passes and completing 16 of 21 for 231 yards.

"I felt good when I woke up this morning and I felt good in pregame drills," Long said. "It was one of those feelings. I knew I was going to have a great game."

Long set standards for yards passing (2,240) in a season, yards passing in a career (3,932). touchdown passes in a season (13), career touchdown passes (24), singleseason total offense (2,222 yards) and career total offense (4,035 yards) The 11 straight completions tied Long's own mark set last year in the Peach Bowl.

"I knew I was within reach of some records ... sooner or later I was going to break them," the sharpshooting junior said matter-of-factly. Hawks Start Fast

The Hawkeyes scored on three of their first four possessions, taking most of the predominantly red-clad Camp Randall Stadium crowd of 78,105 out of the game. All the while, approximately 10,000 fanatics wearing black and gold were going bonkers on a clear, comfortable day. Eddie Phillips, playing in place of tailback Owen Gill, who was nursing a hamstring pull, scored from the 2 to cap Iowa's opening 80-yard march.

Phillips had his most productive game of the season, rushing for 162 yards in 31 carries.

"I've been waiting for a day like this," Phillips said. "I've just been nitpicking here and there. As the game went on I got stronger and stronger."

Long's first-half touchdown passes covered 12 yards to wingback Ronnie Harmon, 5 yards to reliable split end Dave Moritz and 20 yards to tight end Jonathan Hayes. Moritz had seven receptions for 95 yards.

Harmon's score, which gave Iowa a 14-0 lead, was vintage Ronnie. Long was driven 15 yards from the line of scrimmage by onrushing linemen and lofted a crossfield throw. Harmon made a left-handed catch, followed by

Swarming Mizzou defense keys upset of No. 11 Sooners

Saturday.

Oklahoma came into the game averaging almost 290 yards rushing a game, fourth-best in the nation, but showed a shocking minus-7 yards rushing in the first half and less than 100 for the game.

Missouri's defense, led by linebackers Jay Wilson and Tracey Mack and COLUMBIA, MO. (AP) - Marlon defensive ends Taft Sales and Bobby Adler threw a scrambling 20-yard Bell, dominated the line of touchdown pass and a swarming scrimmage. They consistently Missouri defense shut down No. 11 pressured Sooner quarterback Danny Oklahoma's offense in leading the Bradley on passing plays and stopped Tigers to a 10-0 upset of the Sooners Oklahoma runners at the line of scrimmage.

> It was the first time the Sooners have been shut out in a Big Eight game since Missouri's 30-0 victory in

The victory boosted the Tigers' record to 6-3 overall and 4-1 in the Big Eight, putting them in a tie with the Sooners for second place.

Oklahoma is also 6-3 overall.

All the scoring came in the first half, with Brad Burditt getting the Tigers rolling on their first possession by kicking a 37-yard field goal.

Adler, the junior quarterback who tied a school record by scoring four touchdowns the week before against Iowa State, engineered a 71-yard touchdown drive in the second period.

Oklahoma appeared to have halted the drive early, holding the Tigers on a third-and-seven from the Missouri 32. But the Tigers gambled and won, sending Cameron Riley diving for the first down.

On third-and-four from the Missouri 23 a few minutes later, Eric Drain broke over right tackle for 7 yards to the 16. Then, on third-and-14 from the 20, Adler rolled out under a heavy pass rush and threw a strike on the run to Andy Hill, who had beaten Keith Stanberry in the end zone.

Spencer Tillman, Oklahoma's second-year freshman tailback, was carried off the field on a stretcher in the fourth period. Oklahoma officials said later he had suffered a pinched nerve in the neck and was not believed severely injured.

Adler, who sat out part of the second half with an elbow injury, guided the Tigers 43 yards in nine plays to set up Burditt's field goal on Missouri's first possession.

The Sooners had only one mild offensive threat in the Missouridominated game. But Tim Lashar was wide on a 46-yard field goal attempt in the first quarter. Missouri's touchdown drive consumed almost 61/2 minutes of the second

Typical of Oklahoma's futility was a series of plays in the fourth period.

Steve Smith's record 4 scoring

Scott Case intercepted an Adler pass with about 7 minutes 30 seconds left. But Missouri's Jeff Hooper stole a Bradley pass on the very next play.

Later, after Tillman was carried away, Oklahoma gambled on fourthand-two from from near midfield but Mack stopped the play cold.

Missouri, which had 153 yards total offense in the first half to 62 for Oklahoma, moved into scoring position one more time in the second quarter but Burditt could not connect from 43 yards out and the first half ended with the Tigers holding a 10-0

An early Christmas for Long, a Hawk gift from 'Steady Eddie'

MADISON, WIS. — Timing, as they say, is everything. For the second Saturday in succession, Iowa ran up the score. This time, however, the Hawkeyes piled it on in the socially accepted manner.

They rubbed it in early: three out of the first four times they had the ball, in fact.

'Consequently, the squawking was nonextistent. Unless, that is, you count the squawking of the miscreant who adorned Hayden Fry's hairdo with schnapps after said miscreant's beloved Wisconsin Badgers had been knocked for a 34-14 loop. Fry didn't say if he was crowned with peppermint schnapps, but that seems to be the Camp Randall Stadium favorite.

"I don't know why people have to throw stuff on the visiting team here," Fry said.

Good question. The obvious answer, at least Saturday anyway, was that somebody wearing red and white had to show some aggression.

That answer didn't satisfy Fry, who took exception to a question regarding the Badgers' annual befuddled play against the Hawkeyes. "Don't say that," Fry responded, "just say we played a great game."

YOU'RE THE COACH. Iowa played a great game. Though Chuck Long had another season left in which to undo all Iowa's passing records, he was like a child who couldn't wait to unwrap his Christmas presents and erased six of them Saturday. Hawkeye fans have come to expect that kind of play from Mr. Destined . for Greatness. Long completed his first 11 passes — even hauling out his Dan Quisenberry sidearm delivery on several harried occasions. That didn't surprise anyone, though. They'd seen him do the same thing in the Peach Bowl.

Eddie Phillips is the guy you "wondered about. For starters what's a second team all-American (Sporting News) doing watching another fellow lead the Hawkeyes in rushing? Coming into the game, Owen Gill was the man with the 582 yards, the 5.6 rushing average and the nine touchdowns. You wouldn't call Phillips a stand-in, exactly. Three hundred eleven yards after eight games wasn't bad tailback material, but hardly second-team all-America

Every week, though, Phillips moved further into the background while Gill kept going in the opposite direction. When a hamstring pull hornswoggled the Baby Bull this week, Eddie Phillips went into the game as the No. 1 tailback.

Left it the same way, too, Fry said.

"RIGHT NOW, Eddie's No. 1," Fry said. "Like always, the No. 2 guy has to beat him out. They're very similar type backs. It just depends on who has the hot hand."

Saturday it was Phillips: 162 yards is convincing testimony. But in the previous nine games, Phillips, a senior from Chicago, had been the guy with the hot thigh muscle. The official diagnosis was a strained thigh muscle, which got that way in two-a-day practices last August and stayed that way for the first six games.

"I hurt it on a pass route," Phillips said, "and I pulled it again against Iowa State. It was hurting really bad the next week at Penn State."

Against the Nittany Lions, in fact, the thigh hurt so bad, that Phillips wanted to beg off.

"I wanted to," he said, "but I knew I couldn't." Knew he couldn't, for one reason. Because Owen Gill was already pulling away from the two-man pack. Phillips has more than one healthy thigh now. He hasn't felt this fit since he ran for 198 yards last season against Minnesota. Like a trouper, he followed that act with another 158 yards the next week against Illinois and was named Midwest player of the week by the Associated Press.

UNTIL SATURDAY, he hadn't been heard from since. That might be putting it a mite too harshly. He's had his moments, but none like those of last season.

Further, all week he practiced without knowing for certain he'd be the man against Wisconsin. Gill was hurt, to be sure. But sometimes the player on the sideline during the week is the player between the sidelines come game day. Phillips did know, however, that if he got the chance, he couldn't botch it. "I really want to play pro ball," he said. "And I thought this game would help my chances."

The Hawkeyes say they don't care which one, Gill or Phillips, plays as long as one of them does. They're interchangeable, is the consensus. The only player who comes close to a lucid comparison of the two tailbacks is Phillips himself.

"I'M NOT WEAK, but Owen's a lot stronger than I am," Phillips said. "He's improved his pass-catching. I've improved my pass-catching. I think I might be a little quicker getting to the line than Owen."

Gill wasn't around to agree or disagree. And Fry said he didn't know if Gill would be on the field at Michigan State next Saturday to agree or disagree with the Spartans. The Baby Bull was on the field for one play Saturday, but only because his counterpart needed a breather.

"I'm 100 percent," Phillips said. "I don't know about Owen. If he's healthy it means we have two good tailbacks, so look out."

Looking out, incidentally, were eight bowl scouts. When asked if his players knew there were that many hanging about, Fry laughed.

"Sure they know," he said. "But that makes a story-teller out of me. I told them there were 10."

It must have seemed more like 20 when, one by one, they walked up with Fry afterward to shake hands.

"How are things out west?" Fry asked a Fiesta Bowl representative. "We want you to come test it out," said the fellow in the bright suit. (It looked like loud-jacket day in the interview room.) Bystanders, however, had to wonder about the man's sincerity: Saturday, the scuttlebutt had the Fiesta Bowl ready to make a pass at the winner of the Ohio State-Michigan game. That hardly seems fair, but there you have it. Brace yourself for gobs of bow! talk this week. You'll hear Cotton Bowl, Gator Bowl, Florida Citrus Bowl, Holiday Bowl - you name it. For the best policy however, let's

"The only bowl I'm worried about," he said, "is the Michigan State Bowl." No wonder they call him Steady backpeddle to the level-headed Mr.

Smith ran 29 yards for Michigan's first score at 5 minutes 27 seconds of the first quarter. Only 61 seconds later, Michigan defensive back Jeff Cohen blocked a punt by Matt Kinzer and Carlton Rose recovered in the end zone for another touchdown.

In the second quarter, Smith passed to Triando Markray for a 41-yard touchdown, tossed a 30-yard scoring pass to Vincent Bean and teamed with Sim Nelson for an 18-yard touchdown aerial.

Byars' 4 scores fuel Buckeyes, 56-17

BLOOMINGTON, IND. (AP) -Tailback Keith Byars rushed for 169 yards and four touchdowns Saturday as 14th-ranked Ohio State overpowered Indiana, 56-17, Saturday in Big Ten football and extended its unbeaten string against the Hoosiers to 28 games.

Byars' first two touchdowns came as Ohio State raced to a 28-3 halftime

The Hoosiers, stymied on the ground, had to rely on the passing of quarterback Steve Bradley. But the Indiana sophomore was intercepted three times, each one leading to a touchdown run by Byars.

Ohio State got its first touchdown 3 minutes into the game on a 44-yard pass from quarterback Mike Tomczak to Thad Jemison. Less than a minute later, Orlando Lowry's interception gave the Buckeyes the ball at the Hoosier 26. Byars ran three times and scored from the 2.

Byars' second touchdown, a 24-yard run midway through the second period, came seven plays after Spencer Nelms picked off a Bradley pass at midfield. Byars third touchdown, a 1-yard run, came five plays after Garcia Lane returned an intercepted pass 13 yards to the Hoosier 21 in the third quarter.

His last score, another 1-yarder with 5:43 to play, capped a 20-play, 96-yard drive.

The Buckeyes' other touchdowns came on backup tailback John Wooldridge's 4-yard run on the third play of the second quarter, Tomczak's 1-yard burst in the third quarter and reserve quarterback Jim Karsatos 63-yard pass to Doug Smith with less than 2 minutes remaining in the game. Doug Smith's 35-yard field goal accounted for Indiana's only points of the first half. The Hoosiers collected a third-quarter touchdown on Bradley's 12-yard pass to Len Kenebrew and scored again as time ran out in the game on a 33-yard pass from reserve Cam Cameron to Stephan Benson.

Ohio State is now 5-2 in the Big Ten and 7-2 for all games. Indiana, which last beat the Buckeyes in 1951, fell to 2-5 and 3-6.

K-State upsets Cowboys in final:11

STILLWATER, OKLA. (AP) -Greg Dageforde's 3-yard touchdown run and Steve Willis' extra point with 11 seconds to play capped a dramatic fourth-quarter comeback Saturday that lifted Kansas State to a 21-20 football upset over Oklahoma State.

The Wildcats, winning for the first time in their last five games, improved to 3-6 overall and 1-4 in the Big Eight Conference. Oklahoma State, whose only previous losses were to Nebraska and Oklahoma, fell to 6-3 and 2-3.

Kansas State quarterback Stan Weber, whose running and passing had kept the Wildcats close to Nebraska until the fourth quarter of their game a week ago, guided the team 77 yards in the final 2 minutes to set up Dageforde's touchdown

Weber connected with Darrel Wild on several passes in that final drive, including Wild's diving catch of 24-yard toss that gave the Wildcats a first down at the Cowboys' 3-yard-line with:15 left.

On the next play, Dageforde dived into the end zone for the tying score, and Willis kicked the extra point to Oklahoma State, which had taken the lead in the second quarter and did not trail again until Dageforde's touchdown, had a final chance to win, but Larry Roach's 58-yard field goal attempt fell short as time expired.

It was the second 21-20 loss for the Cowboys this year. The team surrendered 18 points in the fourth quarter against Oklahoma and lost that game on a field goal in the final minute.

Weber hit 12 of 27 passes for 172

yards, but four interceptions by Oklahoma State thwarted Wildcat

Rusty Hilger completed 13 of 21 passes for 209 yards for Oklahoma State and his pinpoint accuracy in the first haif boosted the Cowboys to a 14-7 lead at intermission. But Oklahoma State was limited to 75 yards rushing, and could manage only two second half field goals by Roach.

The Wildcats had an opportunity to move ahead early in the game when two defenders knocked the ball out of Hilger's hand as he backpeddled for a pass. Kansas State took over on the Cowboys' 29-yard-line with 10 minutes left in the first quarter.

The play capped a 74-yard drive highlighted by a 16-yard gain on a scramble by Weber and a 23-yard pass from Weber to Wild that produced a first down at Oklahoma State's 18-yard-line.

The lead was short-lived. Hilger, who hit six of eight passes for 122 yards in the first half, completed tosses of 32 and 13 yards to tight end John Chesley, setting up a 20 yard dash up the middle by Arthur Price that tied the game 7-7 with 12:47 left in the half.

The Cowboys took the lead on their next possession, driving 83 yards in 11 plays for a touchdown. Hilger's passing again was the key, with the junior quarterback hooking up with Jamie Harris on a 44-yard pass play | Day.

that gave the team a first down at Kansas State's 5-yard-line.

Two plays later, Hilger dove over from the 1-yard-line to make it 14-7 with 5:34 left in the half.

Weber brought the Wildcats back for two late drives, but interceptions killed both rallies. Weber gave up another costly interception in the third quarter when Oklahoma State's Chris Rockins snagged a pass and returned it 41 yards to the Kansas State 23. That set up a 33-yard field goal by Roach to make the score 17-7.

The Wildcats pulled to within 17-14 midway through the third quarter when Weber climaxed an 87-yard drive with a 3-yard touchdown pass to tight end Eric Bailey. But another interception by Brown set up Roach's second field goal of the half, a 28-yarder that made it 20-14 with 7:02

The teams then swapped punts with John Conway's kick to the Kansas State 23 providing the starting point for the Wildcats' final drive.

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) - Bob Paulling kicked three field goals and Mike Eppley tossed a third-quarter touchdown pass Saturday to guide Clemson to a 16-3 victory over 10th-ranked North Carolina in an Atlantic Coast Conference football game.

Clemson raised its record to 7-1-1. Although the game does not count in ACC standings because of Clemson's probation, the Tigers have beaten 18 straight ACC rivals. Also, Clemson has not lost to North Carolina in Chapel Hill since 1971.

a sharp pivot, reversing the field against the baffled Badgers. He, picked up a crunching block from guard Tim Hanna and flew into the end zone.

"At Our Best"

Iowa is now 7-2 overall and 5-2 in the Big Ten with games remaining against Michigan State and Minnesota. Eight bowls - Fiesta, Gator, Liberty, Sun, Peach, Holiday, Citrus and Independence - had representatives here.

"For a while, you saw the Hawks at their best," Iowa Coach Hayden Fry said. "We've got a good football team. I thought the Hawks did a super job offensively and defensively. We just executed."

The game was billed as a shootout between Long and Wisconsin's senior quarterback, Randy Wright.

Wright completed 25 of 54 passes for 325 yards and one touchdown, but was only 6-for-21 for 79 yards in the first half, when the game was decided. "Wright was checking off and checking back again," defensive tackle Paul Hufford said. "We were jumping around and confusing him a lot. We disguised what we were going to do and messed him up pretty badly. You could see the confusion in the Wisconsin players' eyes." The Hawkeyes used a nickel defense (five backs) more than they usually do and a four-man front instead of five. Hufford, quickly developing into the Hawks' big-play guy on defense, set the tone for the game by twice dropping Wright for losses on Wisconsin's first series. "I've tried to take over for Mark Bortz," Hufford said. "That's what he

Long sympathized with Wright. "I wouldn't want to play against our defense," Long said. "I was watching Randy a few series. Our defensive scheme is tough to understand. We're disguising the defense right off the snap of the ball and that throws a quarterback's timing off."

Seven In a Row Wisconsin is now 5-4 and 3-4. Iowa has won seven in a row against the Badgers and eight of the last nine, including four in a row here. 'lowa was the better team,' Wisconsin Coach Dave McClain said. "It was the worst combination of everything. We did not move the ball and we did not stop them. Long did a terrific job scrambling." The Hawkeyes' lone second-half touchdown came on a diving 6-yard catch by tight end Mike Hufford.

Wright's 44-yard pass to split end Atkins dashed 56 yards to set up a Al Toon and Marck Harrison's 11-yard run provided the Badgers' touchdowns.

"I'm telling you, we played super defense," Fry said. "This is a Wisconsin team that scored 27 points in three quarters against Ohio State. This is about the time of year our defense jells."

No one in Badgerland would disagree.
