

Sports

Section B The Daily Iowan Monday, October 8, 1984

Arts/entertainment
Page 6B, 8B

Classifieds
Page 6B, 7B

TWO roommates wanted to share a bedroom house $140/month plus utilities 7-15
AUG. 1, Gen. bedroom, electricity, bus. Seville Apt. 7-15
ROOMMATE wanted immediately $167.50 plus low utilities. Pool, busline. 7-4 ROOMMATE needed! Share spacious 3 bedroom trailer in Bon Air. Washer, dryer, cablevision.
BRAND NEW 2 bed and 3/2 bath. Rent reduced for summer. Call for details $520/56 incl August fee 6391.
NOW R FOR DOWN

Padres complete dream, Cub nightmare

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — The San Diego Padres now know what heaven is all about.
Talk about your impossible dreams. The Padres beat the seemingly unbeatable man, Rick Sutcliffe, Sunday and defeated the Chicago Cubs 6-3 behind a four-run seventh-inning rally to win their first pennant in their 16-year history.
San Diego also became the first National League team to win a best-of-five playoff after losing the first two games. The Padres play the Detroit Tigers in the World Series, beginning Tuesday night at San Diego. Jack Morris will pitch for the Tigers and Mark Thurmond for the Padres.
The clinching victory was aided by a Cubs' collapse that mirrored the frustrations the franchise has endured for 39 years.

"WE GOT SOME breaks," admitted San Diego manager Dick Williams, "and we took advantage of them. Then everything fell into place. I always had hope we would get to Sutcliffe but he had stymied us everytime we went out there."
Held for five innings to only two hits by Sutcliffe, who had won 15 straight games, including a 13-0 triumph in the series opener, the Padres began their comeback by scoring twice in the sixth on sacrifice flies by Graig Nettles and Terry Kennedy to pull within 3-2.
Then, in the seventh, the clear blue California sky fell on the Cubs. Sutcliffe walked Carmelo Martinez to start the inning and Garry Templeton sacrificed. Pinch-hitter Tim Flannery, batting for winning reliever Craig Leferts, grounded to first baseman Durham. The ball went between Durham's legs and Martinez scored the tying run.

"WE WERE LOOKING for one break and we got it," said Steve Garvey, the series' Most Valuable Player. "Bull (Durham) had an excellent season and he's a fine first baseman but the ball never came up. It stayed down and was the break that kept us going."
Alan Wiggins then dumped a single into short left and with the record-setting crowd of 58,359 on its feet screaming, Tony Gwynn ripped a bouncer over the glove of second baseman

Ryne Sandberg for a two-run double.
Garvey, the hero of Saturday night's 7-5 victory with five RBI, singled in Gwynn to all but end Chicago's hope for its first pennant since 1945.
"IT WASN'T THAT I was really hit that hard until Garvey's hit," said Sutcliffe, who was 16-1 with the Cubs this season and is the leading candidate for the National League's Cy Young Award. "They happened to find the holes, that's baseball. I'm not looking for excuses, I made some mistakes and we lost the game."
Cubs manager Jim Frey said he had no intention of pulling his ace right-hander early in the inning.
"I can't deny the fact that this man is one of the major reasons we got to this position," Frey said. "He was still throwing well up there. If either of the balls had been caught, we would have been out of the situation. The second ball (Gwynn's double) could've been a double play. It was hit hard and took a bad hop."

WITH RICH GOSSAGE pitching the ninth and the crowd cheering every pitch, the Padres' ace reliever began by getting Durham on a fly to Gwynn in right. Keith Moreland kept Cubs' hopes alive with a single to right but Gossage got Ron Cey on a pop to second and Jody Davis on a force out to end the game.
The Padres mobbed Gossage while hundreds of fans ran on the field with no police to stop them. Fireworks erupted beyond the centerfield fence as the fans stood in unison and applauded wildly.

Chicago began as if it would blow out the Padres as Durham smashed a two-run homer in the first inning and Davis belted a solo shot to lead off the second. Both homers came off Eric Show, who was tagged for five homers in his two playoff starts. But they proved to be the last runs for the Cubs.
Suddenly, their bats went silent. Over the final seven innings, they managed just two hits off four relievers and from the fourth through the seventh innings did not get a runner on base.

Payton passes Brown's record

United Press International

Walter Payton got everything he wanted from Sunday's game — he broke Jim Brown's career rushing record and his Chicago Bears won.
Payton rushed for 154 yards and one touchdown in 32 carries to give the Bears a 20-7 victory over the New Orleans Saints in Chicago.
Jim McMahon threw a 16-yard touchdown pass to Dennis McKinnon and Bob Thomas kicked two field goals to improve Chicago's mark to 4-2. The Saints fell to 3-3.
Payton entered the game 67 yards shy of Brown's record and broke it on the second play of the second half. The 2,795th rushing attempt of his career was good for six yards, allowing him to get past Brown's mark of 12,312 yards that had stood since 1965.

PAYTON WENT OVER to New Orleans coach Bum Phillips to shake hands and then was mobbed by his teammates who had come on the field to congratulate him.
Payton scored on a one-yard run with three seconds left in the first half to put Chicago ahead 13-7. His 100-yard plus performance — his fifth straight this year — was his 59th in his career, breaking Brown's mark of 58.
Payton's total yardage improved to 12,400 in 2,809 carries and it was his consistency on the ground that enabled Chicago to control the ball.
"I want to make a statement, and it will be my last. My motivation was for those who tried and failed," Payton said. "It was dedicated to the (David) Overstreet, the (Joe) Delaney and (Brian) Piccolos."

THE EVENT WAS witnessed by a sellout crowd at Soldier Field that had come to pay tribute to Payton.
"I was so nervous, so very nervous that I was shaking," Payton said. "I'm just glad this whole thing with the cameras and mikes is over with. I'm also glad that we won the game."
Payton received a call from President Ronald Reagan after the game from Air Force One, where Reagan was en route to a debate with Democratic presidential candidate Walter Mondale.
Payton said Reagan likened breaking the record to Kareem Abdul-Jabbar's breaking Wilt Chamberlain's scoring mark, and to Hank Aaron eclipsing Babe Ruth's home run mark. At the end of the conversation, a relieved Payton said, "Give my best to Nancy."

HIS TEAMMATES also paid tribute to Payton.
"Just said when he came back the huddle, 'Let's go on and win the game,'" said quarterback Jim McMahon.
Offensive lineman Jimbo Covert said Payton did not want to have the spotlight on his new record.
"Of course he wanted it, but he was more interested in winning
See Payton, page 4B

Hawks maul Wildcats with new defense

By Steve Batterson
Sports Editor

EVANSTON, Ill. — It seemed like yesteryear to Iowa football Coach Hayden Fry as a strong defensive effort let Iowa manhandle Northwestern 31-3 Saturday at Dyche Stadium.
The Hawkeyes held the Wildcats to 49 yards in total offense, an Iowa school record. The previous mark of 67 yards was set in 1955 by the Hawkeyes against Kansas State.
Iowa limited three Northwestern quarterbacks to just seven completions in 26 attempts for only 30 yards while unveiling a new defensive scheme. The Hawkeyes sent four players after the Northwestern quarterback while allowing the other seven defenders to stay back in the zone.

"OUR DEFENSE PLAYED a lot like it did the latter part of last season," Fry said. "It was truly one of the better defensive efforts on our part... We shut 'em down. If they didn't get over 30 yards in offense we must be doing something right."
"We were sitting on their receivers," Fry said. "We knew they'd see the Illinois film and try to do the same thing... It was to our advantage to change things completely."
And the move worked. It also kept the Hawkeye defense from overlooking the Wildcats after a 21-16 win over Illinois the previous Saturday.
"We sort of wanted to overlook them," Hawkeye defensive back Keith Hunter said, "but the coaching staff wouldn't let us. We had a hard week of practices. Their quarterback is good and we were on him all day."

NORTHWESTERN STARTER Sandy Schwab was taken out of the game in the third quarter with what Wildcat Coach Dennis Green described as a bruised shoulder. The Wildcats' top reserve, Mike Greenfield, was taken out in the fourth quarter and Green said the freshman had been hit so hard he couldn't remember his locker combination following the game.
Just as the Iowa defense went after the Wildcats, Northwestern was successful in getting into the Hawkeye backfield — dropping Iowa for losses adding up to 85 yards and sacking quarterback Chuck Long six times — three times by linebacker Alex Moyer.

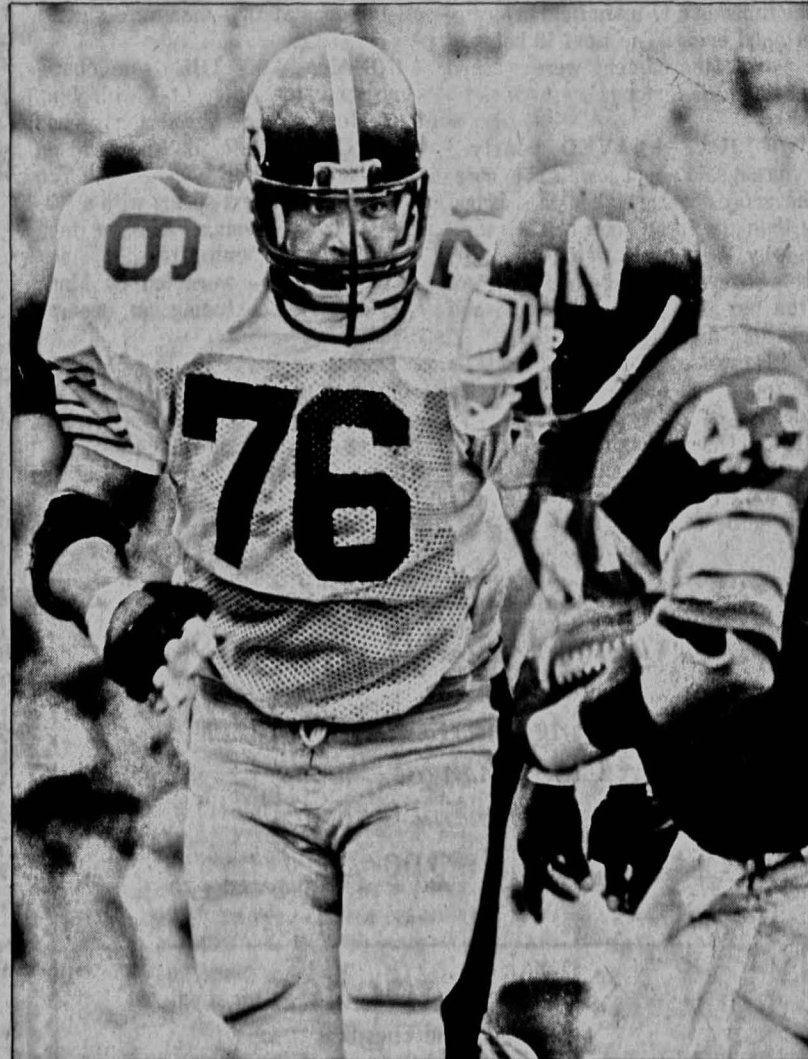

"So far, this has been my roughest day as a player," Long said. "We were kind of lax out there and we weren't as emotional as we should have been... It was just one of those days that happen. I'm glad it happened against Northwestern rather than against Ohio State or Michigan."

FRY SAID SATURDAY that he was not happy with Iowa's offensive performance in that area. "We certainly didn't play good football," Fry said.
Green thought otherwise. "I think we just got outplayed by a better football team," he said. "I think defensively we played very well, but they just had some big plays on special teams that really hurt us."
"Offensively, we're just not playing well enough to win a Big Ten game," Green said.

Despite the inconsistencies in the Iowa offense, the Hawkeyes were able to accumulate 398 yards in total offense.
NORTHWESTERN HELPED Iowa set up its first touchdown when freshman punt returner Brett Whitley fumbled a Gary Kostrubala punt. Hawkeye Craig Clark recovered on the six-yard line and two plays later, tailback Ronnie Harmon dove over the right tackle for Iowa's first score of the afternoon.
"It's important to get up early like that," Fry said. "It really takes the crowd out of the game."
On Iowa's next possession, Harmon, who rushed for 121 yards in 24 carries

Tight end Jonathan Hayes is pulled down by Northwestern strong safety Charles Plant during the final quarter of Iowa's win at Evanston, Ill., Saturday

Hawkeye defensive lineman Jeff Drost moves in on Northwestern fullback Casey Cummings during Iowa's 31-3 win Saturday afternoon.
and caught six passes for 64 yards, added to the Iowa score when he took a pitch from Long and raced nine yards for the touchdown.
A long kicker penalty on Northwestern aided Iowa's next scoring drive. The Wildcats had the ball on their way to a 17-yard score afternoon. Hayes' reception of Chuck Long's pass was good for a 14-yard gain. Iowa scored on the next play, giving the Hawkeyes a 31-3 win.
See Hawkeyes, page 4B

Emotion keys tough Northwestern play

By J.B. Glass
Staff Writer

EVANSTON, Ill. — It was a "Purple wall of Wildcats" that stopped Chicago dead for 57 minutes in 1924.
Then Chicago's Bob Curley split the field. This heralded a new era in Northwestern football, although they were defeated that day. Chicago Tribune sportswriter Wallace Abbey declared the wild, enthusiastic and emotional purple team to appropriately be nicknamed the Wildcats.
That wild emotion surfaced again last Saturday at Dyche Stadium despite another losing Wildcat effort, a large contingent of Iowa fans and a charged Iowa defense.
The best evidence of Northwestern's emotion was on the defense, despite what the statistics said.

"I THINK WE PUT the pressure on them and made them struggle," Wildcat all-Big Ten defensive tackle Keith Cruise said. "You have to play with emotion — hey, it's the only way to play."
Northwestern compiled 10 tackles for losses of 54 yards. Although not as good as Iowa's No. 1 defensive unit, the Wildcats' unit was past the offensive line and in the face of Iowa quarterback Chuck Long all day long. "They deserve a lot of credit," Long said about the Wildcat II.
Co-captain outside linebacker Alex Moyer, one of seven starting seniors on defense, led the defense which "the second-best back in the league," Ronnie Harmon for losses six times. For

Alex Moyer
Moyer, five of his nine stops were for losses and he had three quarterback sacks.
"FRANKLY I JUST don't think the tackle was really too good and the backs didn't want to block," Moyer said about Iowa's "wounded" tackle Mike Haight. "Myself and Keith Cruise designed the stunts in the pass rush, so that enabled me to get in there and make a couple of big plays."
Iowa Coach Hayden Fry said Sunday that Haight has only been working out one day each week since the opening week of the season because of a back
See Wildcats, page 4B

Sports

Hawkeyes

Continued from page 1B

as the Hawkeyes built a 21-0 lead with seven minutes remaining in the first half.

The Wildcats posted their only points of the game on a 49-yard field goal by John Duvic with 1:25 left in the half.

Hawkeye Tom Nichol added a 28-yard field goal in the third quarter while the Iowa offense struggled.

The Hawkeyes managed their final points of the game on a six-yard pass from Long to Scott Helverson with 42 seconds remaining on the Dwyer Stadium clock and Fry said the score was an important one for Iowa.

"WE WERE PLAYING so poorly that we felt we definitely needed to score from a mental standpoint," Fry said. "It was imperative that we scored throwing the football, too. We didn't want to run it in. We'd been down there three times and we weren't able to get it in."

The touchdown also pleased most of the crowd of 36,598 — the majority of which were Iowa fans. "I don't know if we had more fans than Northwestern did, but it sure sounded like it."

The win leaves Iowa in a three-way tie for third place in the Big Ten with Michigan and Ohio State. The

Iowa 31

Northwestern 3

Statistics

	Iowa	NU
First downs	23	5
Rushing-yards	47-135	27-19
Passing-yards	263	30
Return-yards	7	18
Passes	19-28-1	7-28-0
Punts	6-38	10-44
Fumbles-lost	1-0	2-2
Penalties-yards	3-30	5-37
Iowa	14 7 3 7-31
Northwestern	0 3 0 0-3
Iowa — Harmon 2 run (Nichol kick) Iowa — Harmon 9 run (Nichol kick) Iowa — Harmon 17 run (Nichol kick) NU — FG Duvic 49 Iowa — FG Nichol 28 Iowa — Helverson 6 pass from Long (Nichol kick) A — 36,598

Hawkeyes travel to league-leading Purdue on Saturday for a contest with the Boilermakers and Fry said Sunday he isn't surprised with what has been going on in the league.

"I'm not surprised by anything anymore," Fry said. "Pretty soon people will quit using the word upset when they talk about scores. All of the teams have good people."

Wildcats

Continued from page 1B

injury. "It was obvious he was tired Saturday," Fry said.

Moyer, who along with Cruise, has started 33-straight games, agreed emotion is the way to go. "We're underdogs. People come in and they think they are just going to run through us but we feel we can pressure anybody. This year we've proven we can play defense."

"THIS IS THE best defensive team Northwestern has had in years," Fry said.

"I say defensively we're playing better, a hell of a lot better," Wildcat Coach Dennis Green said. "Alex played outstanding. I think the pros really like him. He's a rough, tough player and made a lot of big plays — particularly some one-on-one tackles on an outstanding back like Harmon."

The blitz is in Northwestern's game plan. "You're better off to put some heat on Long than give him a chance to sit back," Green added.

Cruise said the defense felt it owed Iowa something. In the last three meetings before last Saturday's 31-3 Hawkeye win, Iowa had outscored Northwestern, 172-28.

"THE DEFENSE HAD dedicated itself," Cruise said.

Moyer said the defense communicated well, at times with emotional-lifting hollers and sometimes cerebrally. "We just wanted to go out and show the conference what we can do. We just go out there and play no matter what the score is," Moyer said.

Earlier this year Green said anytime you play defense, you have a chance to win. After the contest, Green said, "Last year in eight of 11 games, we gave up points the first time the other team got the ball on offense. This year, that hasn't happened at all."

And last Saturday, it didn't happen either.

Payton

Continued from page 1B

the game," Covert said.

Elsewhere Sunday, the Los Angeles Raiders clipped Seattle 28-14, Miami crushed Pittsburgh 31-7, Denver blasted Detroit 28-7, St. Louis shocked Dallas 31-20, the New York Jets edged Kansas City 17-16, Washington crushed Indianapolis 35-7, Atlanta slipped by the Los Angeles Rams 30-28, New England tripped Cleveland 17-16, Tampa Bay shaded Minnesota 35-31, San Diego outgunned Green Bay 34-28, Philadelphia dumped Buffalo 27-17 and Cincinnati trimmed Houston 13-3.

Tonight, San Francisco visits the New York Giants.

MARCUS ALLEN, who scored the Raiders' first touchdown after catching a 92-yard bomb, scored on a 58-yard pass late in the fourth quarter and Rod Martin followed 19 seconds later by returning an interception for a touchdown to lift the Raiders. Los Angeles is 5-1, tied for first place with Denver in the AFC West. Seattle fell to 4-2.

Dan Marino, making his first pro appearance in his hometown of Pittsburgh, passed for 226 yards and two touchdowns to help Miami stay undefeated in six games. Marino completed 16 of 24 passes with one interception.

John Elway passed for 208 yards, including a 42-yard touchdown to Steve Watson, and the Broncos forced 10 turnovers to roll to their fourth straight victory. Elway completed 16 of 22 passes with one interception.

Neil Lomax threw for 354 yards and hooked up with speedster Roy Green for third-quarter touchdown passes of 70 and 45 yards to fuel the Cardinals' upset win — only their second triumph in 13 tries in Texas Stadium.

FREEMAN McNEIL ran for 107 yards and the Jets held off a late Kansas City rally for the victory. The Jets scored on Pat Leahy's 37-yard field goal, a Tony Paige one-yard dive and a 15-yard pass from Pat Ryan to tight end Mickey Shuler.

Joe Theismann threw four touchdown passes, including three to wide receiver Art Monk, to help the Redskins breeze to their fourth straight win. Theismann completed 17 of 20 passes for 267 yards, while fullback John Riggins had 94 yards in just over two quarters of play.

Mick Luckhurst kicked a 37-yard field goal with no time remaining to lift the Falcons to their first win on the Rams' home field in 17 years. It was Luckhurst's third field goal of the game. Lynn Cain, replacing the injured Gerald Riggs, scored three touchdowns for Atlanta.

Steve DeBerg passed for two touchdowns and James Wilder ran for two more to lead the Buccaneers. Wilder scored on an 11-yard run in the second period and a 10-yard run in the fourth quarter to seal the win.

Dan Fouts completed 31 of 50 passes, 15 to tight end Kellen Winslow, to power the Chargers.

Iowa plays well despite losses

By Melissa Rapoport
Staff Writer

EVANSTON, Ill. — Despite the Iowa volleyball team's two Big Ten losses last weekend, Iowa Coach Sandy Stewart said her team performed well.

The Hawkeyes lost to Ohio State Friday night after leading the match by two games. The 15-3, 15-13, 9-15, 1-15 and 10-15 loss, Stewart said, wasn't because Iowa began playing poorly. "Ohio State didn't play well the first two games," Stewart said. "When they started playing, we just couldn't keep up with them."

When the Hawkeye squad met Northwestern Saturday night, Iowa started out strongly, winning the first game 15-11. Despite Iowa's winning efforts, the Hawkeyes dropped the final three games 8-15, 11-15 and 10-15 because of short-lived mental lapses.

"WE PLAY WELL for so long," Stewart said, "then we have a bad spurt that kills... We have short lapses of intensity and they kill us right now... Overall we played well, but we have those short lapses. Once we get behind against Northwestern it seems like we can't come back."

Volleyball

Senior Julie Michelletti also said the Hawkeyes played well, but believes Iowa should have been able to win the fourth game against Northwestern. "Against Ohio State I thought we played really well," she said. "Ohio State wasn't hitting well in the first two games, which made us look even stronger."

"Then in the third game two of the hitters started cranking away and we couldn't stop them... Against Northwestern we played really good the first game. Then the next two games we were evenly matched. In the last game they were ahead, but we came back — we should have come back and won."

NORTHWESTERN COACH Jerry Angle said the Hawkeye squad caused him to make setter adjustments. "They were burning us," he said. "They were taking advantage of Jackie Nunez' height disadvantage."

Even though Iowa was able to

Julie Michelletti

capitalize on Nunez' 5-foot-4 height, Angle said the Wildcats loss of intensity added to the first-game loss. "We just didn't adjust very well," Angle said. "I think we were a little spacey."

The Hawkeyes, who have been inconsistent in serving and have had problems setting the block, pulled both facets of the sport together, but developed serve-receive problems. "It seems like we get one part of the game together and another part falls apart," Stewart said.

"AT THE BEGINNING our blocking hurt," Michelletti said. "Towards the end it was mostly serve-receive — it's hard to run anything when we aren't passing. But, those are things we can work on."

But Michelletti believes the squad is improving. "We're getting closer, though," she said. "We're letting the team get too many points in the first place. We're digging a hole for ourselves. I know we can still do it. It's just a matter of putting it all together."

Stewart praised junior Linda Gensing, and seniors Michelletti and Dee Ann Davidson. "Linda Gensing played a good match," she said. "... Dee Ann and Julie blocked the best they have all year."

Although the Hawkeyes are 14-7 on the season and 0-3 in Big Ten play, Stewart said the Iowa squad is still optimistic. "I think there's still good team unity," she said before adding, "but we have to get some Big Ten wins under our belt."

Experience the unique atmosphere at

the Vine Tavern

21 Imported Beers

DOUBLE BUBBLE 2 to 7 Mon-Sat

'1 Burgers All Day
Miller/Miller Lite
75¢ Tallboys

8 to Close Open at 11 am

the CROW'S NEST

Presents

IN CONCERT TOMORROW
FUSION GUITARIST

ALLAN HOLDSWORTH

TUESDAY, OCT. 9

Allan Holdsworth has played guitar with Soft Machine, Chuck Magione, Tony Williams, U.K. and Jean Luc Ponty.

Read what other people are thinking in the Letters section of Viewpoints

AN OFF WEEK FOR TRIVIA

1. What is Gumby's last name?
2. Iran was formerly called Persia. What was it called before that?
3. How many calories do you consume by licking a stamp?
4. How many lightbulbs are in the scoreboard in Wrigley Field?
5. Which two of Nixon's henchmen used to work at Disneyland?
6. What is President Reagan's favorite drink?
7. What do the letters in MAFIA stand for?
8. Since 1960, how often has it reached 100 degrees in Miami?
9. How many teeth does a mosquito have?
10. What does Thomas Edison and Juliette Low, Girl Scouts founder, have in common?

HAPPY HOUR 4-7
$1.00 Bloody Marys
$1.75 Pitchers

MAGOO'S 206 N. Linn.

THE MILL PRESENTS

OPEN MIKE
Monday Night

- Michael Cook
- Brian Neubaver
- Susan Werner
- Radoslav Lorkovic

If you'd like to perform, call Jay Knight at 338-8713

THE MILL RESTAURANT
120 E. Burlington
-No Cover-

Screenprinted SPORTSWEAR

Jackets T-Shirts
Jerseys Caps
Sweats

T.Galaxy
A SPORTING ESTABLISHMENT

UPPER LEVEL
Old Capitol Center
337-3133

CUSTOM SCREENING

DORM FLOOR SHIRTS AVAILABLE!

"Ahoy Mates", By golly I think I've discovered an Italian Celebration at The River Room in the Iowa Memorial Union. Can it be? Look today they're having:

- Minestrone Soup
- Italian Carved Beef Milenese
- Italian Vegetables
- Pare di Patata and a
- Dinner Roll all for only $2.95

At that price even Queen Isabella couldn't resist.

The UNIVERSITY OF IOWA SKI CLUB

PRESENTS:

January 4-13, 1985

$289 Complete

Informational Meeting
Tuesday 6:30 pm
121 Schaeffer Hall

For Information Contact
Kim Short at 338-5126
Judy Blocker at 337-6649

Sports
Purdue
Spa
United Press Int
What is so r
both Michigan Big Ten?
What may believe is that second divisio
usually is lea record in the The Boilerm beaten Ohio S go to 3-0 in Michigan miss when it was u
State.
Iowa, floun itself back in Northwestern Rose Bowl the chance at def whipped Wisc sion of second IN NIGHT winless after league win in 33-24.
Purdue's sta means no clu defeated this could — but f would be the conference re
Ohio State le ter before the Quarterback eight of 10 pa
yards and tw Boilermakers
"We could h stayed in the Leon Burnett could stay on fense is so big OHIO STAT
Hurr beh
United Press Int
Don't blame they pray for Powered by four touchdo air — No. 16
Notre Dame's day night in a
The win lifte year and mark visits to Notre
"I never dre said Highsmi played defens school. "We w ing here becau ning makes it MIAMI'S BI Steve Beuerle
heavy rainfal pleting 20 of 29
an interception passes of one a Beuerlein bri in the game, w fumbled center terceptions. H
tions on 29 att Miami traile fed exchange Kosar on the f
gave Notre Da to extend the field goal. A p Irish hopes fo change.
"SEVEN WC ference then a ned," Notre Da PER Call J