Old Dominion ends Hawks' title dreams

By Jill Hokinson
Staff Writer

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. — The Iowa field hockey team proved it could play with the best in the country for one half Sunday at Benedum Field.

The Hawkeyes held Old Dominion to a 1-1 tie at halftime before losing 5-1 to the Lady Monarchs in the NCAA Championship game. It was Old Dominion's third-straight national championship.

The second-place finish by the Hawkeyes, marks the highest finish ever for a women's team at Iowa. It was the field hockey team's first trip ever to the Final Four.

"I'm thrilled," Iowa Coach Judith Davidson said. "Coming in second in the country is quite an achievement. Old Dominion is in a class by themselves. They should be the national champs."

Field hockey

THE HAWKEYE defenders held Old Dominion, which took 14 shots in the first half, scoreless for the first 25 minutes of game. The Lady Monarchs scored their first goal on one of six penalty corners in the first half.

Eveline Veraart converted a short corner into a goal with nine minutes, 23 seconds left in the half. Willemien Aardenburg assisted on the goal.

Iowa came back five minutes later to tie the game. Patti Wanner tipped a free hit to Kim Herrmann who smacked the ball into the net from the 25-yard line, leaving the score tied, 1-1, at the half.

The Lady Monarchs came out quickly in the second half, scoring three goals in the first 11 minutes. "ODU is the greatest offensive team," said Lady Monarch Coach Beth Anders. "I don't think any team has ever scored or been as exciting as this team (in the second half)."

FIFTY-ONE SECONDS into the half, Christy Morgan put the Lady Monarchs into the lead for good. Her goal was assisted by Diane Bracalente.

Eight minutes later, Cheryl Van Kuren took a shot at the goal that was deflected by Iowa goaltender Karen Napolitano. Van Kuren took the rebound and put it past the Hawkeye freshman to give the Lady Monarchs a 3-1 lead.

Veraart put a second ball in the cage for Old Dominion at the 23 minute mark and at 17:12 Morgan scored the final tally, her second of the game, with an assist by Jackie Grady.

The Lady Monarchs finished the game with 35 shots on goal and 12 penalty corners. The Hawkeyes took 11 shots on goal and had three penalty corners.

"WE LOST A little momentum after ODU had a couple quick goals," Davidson said. "I feel we played them fairly even in the first half. After it was 3-1, we got a little deflated; that's natural."

Napolitano had 14 saves in the game before she was replaced by junior Joan Behrends in the second half. "I have two excellent goalkeepers. They both have different strengths," Davidson said.

In Iowa's semifinal victory over Temple on Saturday, both teams came out aggressively in the first half, trading off control of the ball for the first 10 minutes of the game. But Iowa took advantage of the first penalty corner awarded in the game to take a 1-0 lead. Freshman Liz Tchou took the corner hit from Deb Brickley and knocked the ball past Owl defenders into the lower right hand corner of the cage at 22:42. Mary Koboldt, who stopped the hit from Brickley received the assist.

DAVIDSON SAID THE Hawkeye strategy was to get on the board first and not play catch-up hockey. "We felt we could score first and we could play with Temple."

Temple tried to tie the game on three penalty corners but was unsuccessful. The Owls put the ball in the cage on their third try but the goal was disallowed because of ball movement by MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — Disappointing. That's the only word to describe Iowa, in its 23-17 losing effort in Hubert H. Humphrey Metrodome last Saturday evening.

It wasn't the same Iowa squad that Hawkeye fans have grown accustomed to seeing in Coach Hayden Fry's six years tenure.

Michigan's 21-6 defeat earlier in the day might have been one of the reasons for Iowa's lackluster football. But a bowl bid was still at stake.

Iowa's loss put its record at 6-4-1, which insured the Hawkeyes of its worst record in four years, going into the season finale game at Hawaii Dec. 1.

"I'D LIKE TO congratulate the University of Minnesota, because they just did a super job," Fry said. "They played with a lot of emotion and when they had to put points on the board they did."

"I'm real proud of the way our team fought and battled. Obviously we just weren't good enough to win today. Certainly, I don't feel bad about my football team's efforts, but I did feel bad about the outcome of the game."

"It was a good win for us. I certainly hope it doesn't ruin the Iowa Hawkeyes' bowl chances, because I think they're an outstanding team," Minnesota Head Coach Lou Holtz said. "I thought we played really well on offense and they (Iowa) mixed up their defenses well."

IOWA'S PROBLEMS began early in the game, but they still managed to be tied 7-7 at the half. Then, after Bill Happel returned a punt 95 yards for a touchdown early in the third quarter to give Iowa a 14-7 lead, it looked like the Hawkeyes finally would start to bury the Gophers.

But the lackluster play continued for Iowa and Minnesota kept nipping at the Hawkeyes' heels. The Gophers cut Iowa's lead to 14-10 on Chip Lohmiller's 40-yard field goal with 57 seconds remaining in the third quarter.

Another Minnesota field goal, set up by an Owen Gill fumble on Iowa's 34-yard line, put the Gophers only one point behind at 14-13.

BUT AGAIN, ON the next drive, Iowa seemed to have the game in control once again when the Hawkeyes drove 72 yards on 12 plays to set up Tom Nichol's 25-yard field goal. This widened the Iowa lead to four points at 17-13.

The Iowa defense then seemed to put the Hawkeyes on its way to a victory. They held Minnesota to three yards on three plays to force them to punt from its own 23-yard line.

But then the biggest play of the game came on fourth down when Happel, who was fielding punts for the first time this season, fumbled Adam Kelly's 63-yard punt on his own 14 yard line.

Holtz's 'pups' have a deadly bite

By John Gilardi
Staff Writer

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — Lou Holtz and his band of renegade "young puppies" humbled Iowa in a stunning 23-17 victory Saturday night at the Hubert H. Humphrey Metrodome.

"When a dog is going to bite you," Holtz said after the game, "he'll do it as a pup. And you've got a lot of young puppies out there playing for us."

The first-year Minnesota coach, who ironically earned his master's degree from Iowa, came up north from the warmth of Arkansas to warm the hearts of Gopher fans with exciting football.

HOLTZ HAS DONE that by starting four freshman and eight sophomores. Chip Lohmiller, a 6-foot-2, 180 pound freshman from Woodbury, Minn., made Holtz look like a genius by hitting three field goals and two extra points against the Hawkeyes.

"I really wasn't expecting to kick three field goals tonight," Lohmiller said, "but I'm just glad I could come here and do the job for Coach Holtz."

Lohmiller did just that after hitting three pointers from the 40, 36 and the 34-yard lines. The final one came with only 50 seconds remaining in the game to give Minnesota a comfortable 23-17 lead.

"I'm just glad it went through the uprights on the last one," he said. "There was so much noise from the fans in the stadium that I couldn't hear the snap count. I just kicked the ball and it went in."

ANOTHER YOUNG "pup" who came through for Holtz was freshman running back Gary Couch, who prepped at Davenport Central High School. Minnesota was down 17-13 with 4:17 left on the clock when Couch came in for two plays. On the first play he was stopped for no gain. Two plays later he jaunted around right end for a 14-yard touchdown run.

"It was like a dream come true when I crossed the goal line," Couch said. "I was not recruited very heavily by Iowa but it was great to score against my home-state school."

Best-ever finish at Windy City was sub-par according to Dunn

By Steve Batterson
Sports Editor

CHICAGO — It wasn't pretty but the Iowa men's gymnastics team earned its best finish ever in the Windy City Invitational last weekend.

The Hawkeyes turned in what Coach Tom Dunn described as a sub-par performance finishing in fourth place in the prestigious 12-team invitational. Iowa scored a 271.95.

"We didn't make any major mistakes but we didn't do our best job either," Dunn said. "We had a lot of good routines but not many great ones. "Usually at this time of year, you'll have some major errors," he added.

OHIO STATE'S line-up of nine seniors turned in solid performances across the board to take the team title away from Nebraska for the first time since 1979.

The Buckeyes scored a 277.20 to the Cornhuskers' 276.00. Southern Illinois outdistanced Iowa by posting a 272.50 to take third.

A stronger performance in the floor exercise and vault would have lifted the Hawkeyes into third place. "We could have had two to four more points," Dunn said. "And that's what kept us out of third."

Gymnastics

The bright spot for Iowa was the performance of freshman all-arounder Joe Thome. The Lakewood, Ohio native, finished fourth in the all-around with a 103.00. Charles Lakes of Illinois won the event with 109.5.

"HE STARTED A little rough on the high bar," Dunn said of Thome's performance, "but he turned around and did a good job on floor exercise and turned by far his best all-around performance."

"He's doing a little better than I expected," Dunn added. "Freshmen usually make the mistakes but he's been doing a good job."

Thome said he didn't expect to do so well against such tough competition. "I've competed against a few of them before and I've always felt I'd have chance to beat some of them but I never thought it would happen during my freshman year," Thome said. "I didn't do anything outstanding. I was just consistent."

Dunn was also happy with the efforts of a pair of specialists, Joe Short on the pommel horse and Mike Tangney on the still rings. "They both did their jobs well," Dunn said.

THE DUO ALSO joined junior Stu Breitenstine in the individual finals. Breitenstine qualified in the vault but failed to place.

Short finished in fourth with a 9.4 and Tangney also took fourth-place honors with a 9.45.

For Short, the finals were a first. "I was a little shaky and it wasn't as good of a routine as I threw (Friday)," he said. "This was the first big one for me and the biggest thing was trying to relax."

Dunn said Iowa will need to have improved results from junior all-arounders Breitenstine and Dan Bachman if the Hawkeyes are to be reckoned with this season.

"I was disappointed with Bachman and Breitenstine's performances," Dunn said. "I expect these guys to lead the way for us but they weren't as sharp as they should be."

Purdue easily stops Hawkeyes; loses title to powerful Wildcats

By Mike Condon
Assistant Sports Editor

What started out so well after an ace serve by Kathy Griesheim, ended in a nightmare for the Iowa volleyball team as Purdue swept the Hawkeyes right out of the Big Ten Tournament.

The Boilermakers easily disposed of Iowa in three games, 15-4, 15-7, 15-13, Friday night before a capacity crowd of 1,580 at the Intercollegiate Athletic Facility in West Lafayette, Ind.

Northwestern, which defeated Ohio State in three straight Friday, went on to capture the conference title Sunday, downing Purdue for the second-straight year.

COACH JERRY ANGLE'S Wildcats defeated Purdue 15-13, 15-13, 15-12 to earn a berth in the NCAA tournament. It's not known if the Boilermakers will receive an at-large bid.

For the Hawkeyes, the loss was just another chapter in what has been an up and down season for Coach Sandy Stewart and her squad. "We just got intimidated," Stewart said. "Purdue was just great ... They were not the same team we beat earlier in the season."

The telling statistic in the match was the advantage in kills that went to Purdue. The Boilermakers had 50 put aways compared to only 25 for the Hawkeyes. "We were playing defense most of the night," Stewart said. "Purdue wasn't missing much and we just didn't play aggressively."

"IT'S JUST FRUSTRATING," she added. "We didn't play like we had the prior two weeks and that concerns me. This has to be one of the more disappointing losses of the season."

When Iowa defeated the Boilermakers earlier this season at Carver-Hawkeye Arena, Stewart said she instructed her players to hit at the weaker passers on the Purdue side of the net. That play failed Friday. "The people that were making the mistakes when we beat them just weren't," the third-year Iowa coach said. "Give them credit, they played well at home."

"We had a tough time with serve receive," Stewart added. "That meant we had to go high-outside and they knew it was coming. There wasn't a whole lot we could do about it at that point."

Stewart did praise the play of junior co-captain Linda Greshing and freshman Ellen Mullarkey. "Greshing and Mullarkey just played great," Stewart said. "They were carrying us there for a while."

Hoyas, Illini top preseason poll

NEW YORK (UPI) — Not all that long ago Georgetown basketball in the nation's capital was as exciting as a Congressional filibuster.

The Hoyas finished the 1972 season having lost 23 of 26 games. John Thompson was brought in to coach the next year and things began to change. His work culminated with an NCAA championship last season.

Last Saturday, the UPI Board of Coaches made the Hoyas the preseason choice for the No. 1 team in the country. No school has repeated as NCAA champion since UCLA in 1972 and 1973.

"I'd rather have the pressure now than in 1972 when I was expected to win and didn't have players," Thompson says. "Now I have players."

INDEED HE DOES. Led by Patrick Ewing, Georgetown returns the guts of a team that went 34-3 last year. The 7-foot all-America is joined by forwards Ralph Dalton and David Wingate, swingman Reggie Williams and guards Michael Jackson and Horace Broadnax. Not to mention some outstanding freshmen.

The 42 coaches awarded Georgetown 34 first-place votes for 616 points. No. 2 was Illinois with 2 first-place votes and 469 points. No. 3 went to DePaul with 3 first-place votes and 465. No. 4 fell to Indiana with 2 votes for first and 436 points while No. 5 was Oklahoma with 377 points.

Completing the Top 10 were: No. 6 St. John's, co-No. 7 Washington and Memphis State, No. 9 Duke and No. 10 Southern Methodist, which picked up a vote for No. 1.

ILLINOIS FEATURES Efreem Winters underneath and Bruce Douglas at guard. DePaul begins anew with Coach Joey Meyer and goes with Tyrone Corbin and Dallas Comegys. Indiana coach Bobby Knight has radar-shooting guard Steve Alford and Oklahoma offers the premier forward in all-America Wayman Tisdale.

St. John's answers with all-America Chris Mullin plus junior college star Walter Berry. Washington coach Marv Harshman closes shop with West German imports Detlef Schrempf and Christian Welp. Memphis State is brutal down low with Keith Lee and William Bedford. Duke, with guard Johnny Dawkins, has come of age while SMU is anchored by 7-0 Jon Koncak.

ROUNDING OUT THE Top 20 were: No. 11 Nevada-Las Vegas with big man

Richie Adams; No. 12 Kentucky and forward Kenny Walker; No. 13 North Carolina State and bicep-bulging Lorenzo Charles; No. 14 North Carolina in the post-Michael Jordan-Sam Perkins era; and No. 15 Arkansas behind center Joe Kleine.

Also, No. 16 Louisville and Milt Wagner; No. 17 Syracuse with Dwayne Washington; No. 18 Louisiana State and Jerry Reynolds; No. 19 Georgia Tech directed by Mark Price; and No. 20 Kansas with 7-1 Greg Dreiling and freshman Danny Manning.

Teams received 15 points for a first-place vote, 14 points for second, 13 for third, etc.

The Atlantic Coast Conference took league honors with four schools (Duke, North Carolina, N.C. State and Georgia Tech) in the Top 20 while the Big East followed with three (Georgetown, St. John's and Syracuse).

Willie Roller recovered and the Gophers moved the ball into the end zone on the very next play as Gary Couch, the third-string tailback, went 14 yards around the right end for the touchdown.

THIS GAVE Minnesota its first lead at 20-17 game with only 4:17 remaining.

"It took a bad hop and I didn't want it to roll all the way down to the end zone," Happel said.

"The first one, (a 95-yard punt return for a touchdown which set an Iowa school record, the old record was a 94-yard return by Bob Longley in 1949 against Oregon), he kicked it really good and it went over my head. And at the same time I didn't want to let it roll in the endzone and then it took a high bounce and I figured I better pick it up and then I got some great blocking from the guys up front."

Being down 20-17, the Hawkeyes attempted to come back but they were stopped on four downs with the last play being a long pass from quarterback Chuck Long to Robert Smith when Iowa only needed five yards for the first down.

MINNESOTA TOOK OVER and again Lohmiller came up with a field goal, upping the lead to 23-17.

Iowa had possession of the ball on its own 20 with 56 seconds left and they made one last attempt to salvage the game. But Long's completed pass to Happel with no time remaining was stopped by a vicious tackle from linebacker Larry Joyner.

The Gopher win brought Floyd of Rosedale back to Minnesota after a two year leave of absence.

week that all we needed to do to win was the CIA — Concentration, Intensity and Accentuality. The CIA worked for us."

HOLTZ DIDN'T SAY why he picked the CIA for this game but while being extremely pleased with the play of his underclassmen, he was also pleased with his seniors, playing their last game for the Gophers.

"They went out of that stadium for the last time with their heads held high," Holtz said. "And it's also great to see the hog (Floyd of Rosedale) again."

One senior who left the dome after five years at Minnesota was Andre

Harris, a 5-11 cornerback from Chicago. Harris broke up six Chuck Long passes, grabbed an interception in the end zone, stifling an Iowa drive and had three unassisted tackles.

"I came here as a freshman under Coach Joe Salem and I really didn't know what to expect out of Coach Holtz," Harris said. "I heard about Coach Holtz getting the job during my winter break and they said he coached in the NFL, so I knew I had to be a winner."

"Coach Holtz has done just that," Harris added. "He's taken this team from being in the bottom of the Big Ten to a league contender and we proved that after beating Iowa."

the stopper.

With less than 10 minutes in the half, Iowa drove the ball toward the goal and junior Marcia Pankratz slapped it into the net at 9:42, making the score 2-0.

Iowa defender Dawn Chamberlin said the team settled down and played poised hockey after the first goal. "We relaxed and kept pushing (to win). The second goal iced it."

In second half action Iowa's defenders took over and kept Temple from generating an attack. The Owls took six shots on goal but were unable to score. Iowa goalie Napolitano had two crucial saves in the second half.

WITH EIGHT MINUTES left in the game, Temple Coach Gwen Cheeseman pulled goalie Kim Lambdin in a desperate attempt to get on the scoreboard. But Iowa kept the ball in Temple's defensive end. "Our defense was like a brick wall," Davidson said. "They've been extremely strong in practice. I feel very confident with them."

Throughout the game the Hawkeyes beat Temple to the free hits and Cheeseman said that made a difference. "The key was getting to the free balls," she said. "I think we could've beaten them, but I thought Iowa won the game."

In the second semifinal game Old Dominion controlled the ball against Connecticut taking 22 shots on goal in the first half, but couldn't score. Connecticut had three shots on goal, and the first half ended with no score.

With 15 minutes remaining in the game Veraart scored Old Dominion's first goal on a free hit from Van Kuren. Ten minutes later Bracalente added a second goal with an assist by Morgan. Rose Smith tallied Connecticut's only goal in the game with less than four minutes left on a penalty stroke.
