Chicago Bears Coach Mike Ditka came to St. Louis Tuesday to pitch his National Football League team to St. Louis fans, whose Cardinals moved to Phoenix over the winter.

"I know one thing," Ditka said at a news conference, "this is a great city that deserves a football team."

Ditka plugged the Bears during a news conference with Whitey Herzog, manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, and a representative of Mayor Vincent Schoemehl who officially proclaimed Tuesday "Adopt The Bears Day." The gathering was held at Herzog's Cafe & Biergarten, which is run by the same company that manages Ditka's restaurant in Chicag0.

Herzog indicated that he was all for the new campaign urging St. Louis football fans "not to go into hibernation" but instead "adopt the Bears." And with the way his own team has been playing lately, there may be a lot of interest in the Bears as the baseball season winds down and the football season begins.

The Cardinals had lost 10 of their last 11 games going into Tuesday night's action with Los Angeles, and they were tied with Philadelphia for last place in the National League Eastern Division. Herzog hinted that he might try to insert Ditka into the cleanup spot if he saw him at the ballpark Tuesday night.

SAYS PALMER ACCEPTED MONEY. Paul Palmer's attorney said the former Temple University football star accepted money from, and signed a contract with, agent Norby Walters before his senior football season in 1986.

Matt Lydon, the lawyer, said Palmer, now a running back with the Kansas City Chiefs, received an interest-free cash loan of approximately $5,000. Lydon also said that before Temple's first game in 1986, Palmer had signed a contract granting Walters NFL contract negotiation rights.

The admissions contradict the results of an investigation Temple conducted last year. On March 18, 1987, Athletic Director Charles Theokas said Palmer had received no money from Walters during the 1986 season and that neither Palmer nor Temple had violated NCAA rules, which prohibit such dealings.

Temple isn't expected to be disciplined by the NCAA.

SCHROEDER EYES MOVE. Quarterback Jay Schroeder would rather switch than fight a losing battle for the starting job on the Washington Redskins.

Schroeder made the Pro Bowl in and

1986 but was replaced last year by Doug Williams, who led the Redskins to a Super Bowl victory.

"I've had a blast playing here," Schroeder said Tuesday. "But then again, if you're not going to play, it's not the place to be. You'd rather start somewhere else and take your chances on getting to the [playoffs] with somebody else."

NELSON PRACTICES. Offensive tackle Karl Nelson worked out in uniform Tuesday for the first time since last Aug. 16. Nelson, battling back from Hodgkin's disease and shoulder surgery, participated in a light morning practice session, but took the afternoon off.

"It felt good on the run blocking. but the real test will be [Wednesday] on the pass blocking," Nelson, 28, formerly of Iowa State, said. "If |the shoulder | holds up good then, then I think it will be all right."

HUNLEY TO CARDINALS. The Phoenix Cardinals, in a move designed to strengthen their defense, traded reserve offensive lineman Mike Ruether to Denver Tuesday in exchange for free-agent linebacker Ricky Hunley. Hunley, an all-American at the University of Arizona his final two seasons in 1982-83, was a holdout from the Broncos' preseason training camp in Greeley, Colo., this year and stayed at his Tucson home.
